ARABS SLAUGHTER PARTY OF BRITISH

Another Disaster in Mesopotamia Is Reported Through Bombay—Five British Officers and Administrators, With Number of Arab Levies, Are Killed at Shazraba

RESIST GREAT NUMBERS WHILE AMMUNITION LASTS

Wife of Irrigation Officer Captured by Insurgents, But Said to Be Well Treated—Fears in England of Long and Costly Campaign—Self-Government Plan Interrupted

BOMBAY, Aug. 20.—Another tragic chapter of the series of Arab risings against the British in Mesopotamia has been received. The message says: "Mr. Drigley, a political officer, Branfield, commandant of the levies, Mr. Buchanan, an irrigation officer, and two British non-commissioned officers were killed at Shazraba, Mesopotamia, on Sunday by Arabs. The officers, with the levies, resisted overwhelming numbers for three days until their ammunition was exhausted. The Arab levies were loyal to the end, and died fighting side by side with the British."

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Fears are expressed here that recent events in Mesopotamia will involve Great Britain in a costly military campaign. Official reports show that the country is in a state of anarchistic rebellion against the British administration, especially northeast of Baghdad and between Baghdad and Mosul. British garrisons have been invested, railways cut and British officers murdered.

According to official accounts, the situation is much more serious than revealed in the official dispatches. Only tonight the India Office issued a statement confirming the disaster to a British force in Mesopotamia last Sunday. It adds that the wife of Mr. Buchanan, an irrigation officer who was killed, was captured by the Arabs, but is reported to be safe and well treated. Her child is believed to have been with her.

The news in the Bombay dispatch telling of the killing of the Britishers was the first intimation that Arab levies were fighting on the side of the British.

Already there are 70,000 British and Indian troops in Mesopotamia and 10,000 or more with artillery are on their way from India, but apparently many more such reinforcements will be required to restore order.

The revolt is presumed to be against the methods of the British administration, which is wholly in the hands of British political and military officers. Under the mandate for Mesopotamia Great Britain undertakes to establish local autonomy, and the Arabs complain that they are allowed no share in the administration.

The Liberal press here complains bitterly of the alleged failure of the French Government in Syria and of the British in Mesopotamia to carry out their undertakings and establish governments, and there is strong sentiment expressed against fighting the Arabs, who were Great Britain's allies in the great war.

The British Government has appointed the brother of Prince Feisal, the King of Syria, as the ruler in the British sphere, and summoned Arab representatives to meet at Bagdad to arrange for a constitution for the Arab state in accordance with the mandate. However, under the existing conditions, with the Arabs apparently trying to invest Bagdad, there is considered to be little prospect of such an assembly meeting.

The moderate organs of Liberal opinion, while deprecating involving the country in a new war in Mesopotamia, admit the need of restoring order before autonomy there is possible.

Latest reports show little changes in the Mesopotamian situation, says a War Office announcement today. The Bakubu are still in revolt as far north as Thanikin, the announcement says. A British post at Sakya, 25 miles south of Kifri, has been invested. The railway from Hillago to Bagdad has now been secured at both ends by lines of blockhouses. Defences are being constructed near Bagdad.

SUGAR MYSTERY APPEARS IN EAST

Price in Detroit Brought Down by Importations From Canada While Canadians Pay Dearly—New York Situation

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—A Toronto man who was in Detroit yesterday, stated here that sugar was selling at 17 cents a pound in stores there. This price compares with 23 cents up to 26 cents a pound locally, and canners in Hamilton were yesterday paying 27 cents wholesale.

A further surprising piece of information supplied by the visitor to Detroit was that he had been told by a Detroit grocer that the reason the bottom had fallen out of the sugar market there was that there had been large exportations from Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Retail sugar prices will not drop before January 1, and they may increase, John B. Floyd, special agent of the Department of Justice "flying squadron" of profiteer hunters, announced today after a conference with officials of three large refining companies and representatives of wholesale grocers.

The conference was held at the request of the grocers, who, holding large sugar future contracts, had taken notice of rumors that the sugar market was due for a severe drop.

REPORTED PLOT AGAINST PREMIER

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 20.—The Swiss police have taken measures to protect the British Premier, David Lloyd George, declaring they have discovered a plot against his life. The police claim to have the plotters under supervision in Geneva.

Mr. Lloyd George and his party remained indoors throughout the day, but a member of the party stated that this was in no way due to the alleged plot, but because of the inclement weather.

VANDERBILTS BUY SPROAT LAKE ISLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 20—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., purchased an island for his wife while they were on their way down the coast by automobile en route to California. The young couple announced their purchase with enthusiasm on arrival here today.

The island is in the centre of a body of water known as Sproat Lake, near Alberni, B.C. While passing the lake Mrs. Vanderbilt saw the island and admired it so much that her husband looked up the owner and made the purchase on the spot.

Later the young couple intend building a hunting lodge on the island and passing their vacation there, they said.

PRESS DELEGATES MOTOR TO BANFF

Enjoy New Experience Amid Mountain Scenery on Way From Calgary—Entertained at Luncheon in Wilderness

BANFF, Aug. 20.—Scenery as one of Canada's assets occupied the attention of the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference, when, as guests of the delegates to the Southern Alberta press committee they were taken by motor through the northerly 100 miles of foothills and towering peaks between Calgary and Banff. The drive lasted all day, and the visiting newspapermen are resting tonight at the Banff Springs Hotel.

En route at noon they were given a picnic luncheon near Ghost River as the guests of J. H. Woods, of Calgary. A marquee had been erected in the wilderness, and good things were served the visitors. A ladies' pavilion also appeared in the wilds, capping the complete and thoughtful arrangements for the comfort of the overseas party which has been evidenced throughout Southern Alberta.

The long drive was taken in perfect weather, with little dust and only a few minor engine difficulties and punctures. One feature of the day was a Frenchman's drink of near-beer, many of the party enjoying for the first time the experience of wading into a running brook and lifting a beer bottle from the cooling stream.

At the picnic rendezvous, just outside Morley, an airplane from the air station there circled about the party dropping a telegram of welcome from Major Parker inviting the party to visit the station.

A message of regret that time would not permit them to make a visit was sent by Lord Burnham on behalf of the delegates to the air station, with thanks for their welcome.

The party will spend tomorrow in informal recreation, proceeding Saturday to Lake Louise and Lake Windermere, which will be visited Sunday.

ARRANGING APPEAL FOR WAR SUFFERERS

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society, today had a conference with His Excellency the Governor-General regarding steps which might be taken in Canada on behalf of an appeal for the Imperial War Relief fund to combat disease and distress in the war-stricken areas of Europe and Asia. Communications had already passed between the Lord Mayor of London, who is chairman of the Imperial committee, and His Excellency.

The fund is under the immediate patronage of the King. With the approval of the Prime Minister of Canada, the matter was referred to the Red Cross Society. After full consideration of all facts presented, it was decided to arrange for an appeal to be made in Canada during Armistice Week, Armistice Day being the 11th of November.

Soviet Peace Terms Show Some Changes

Those Submitted to Polish Delegates at Minsk Differ From Summary First Given in London—Stipulate Independence, but Dictate Internal Affairs for Poland

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The terms submitted by M. Danishevsky, head of the Bolsheviki delegates at Minsk, at Thursday's session of the Russo-Polish peace conference, are given in a dispatch from M. Tchitcherin, Bolsheviki Foreign Minister, issued by the Russian delegation here tonight.

Article one announces that Russia and Ukrainia recognize in full the independence and liberty of the Polish Republic, and solemnly confirm the full right of the Polish people to establish its own form of government.

In article two, Russia and Ukrainia renounce any form of contribution.

Article three gives the frontier of Poland in accordance with note of Earl Curzon, (British Foreign Secretary), with more territory east of Bialystok and Cholm.

Article four stipulates that the Polish army be reduced to 50,000 men, to be supplemented by civic militia, made up of workers, organized to preserve order and the population's security.

Articles 5, 6, 7 and 8 deal with mobilization of the military and industries and the prohibition of importation of war materials. Article nine says hostilities will cease 72 hours after the signature of these terms the armies remaining on the line occupied, but not east of the line indicated in Earl Curzon's note of July 11. The Polish army will retire fifty versts (33 1-3 miles) west of the Russian and Ukrainian army, and the intermediate zone will be declared neutral with Polish administration under control of mixed commissions, and special commissions constituted by the trade unions.

Article 10 says that, simultaneously with the demobilization of the Polish army and the turning over of arms, Russian and Ukrainian troops will retire so that at the termination of Polish demobilization only 200,000 men will remain near the neutral zone.

Article 11 deals with Polish restitution to regions formerly occupied, of railway and agricultural material taken away by the Polish army and the reconstruction of bridges by the Poles.

Article 12 declares Poland must establish by law distribution of land grants, in the first place, to families of Polish citizens killed, wounded or disabled in the war.

Under Article 13 Poland would give Russia the right of free transit for men and goods through her territory, with the Volkovisk-Bialystock-Grajevo railway remaining in full possession and control of the Russian republic.

Article 14 says Poland must grant complete political and military amnesty.

Article 15 provides that Poland must publish the treaty and protocols immediately the treaty is signed.

ARMED RAIDERS TAKE BARRACKS

Band of Hundred Men Overcome Police Garrison at Ballymahon — Constables Allowed to Leave

WOMAN MISTREATED BY SINN FEINERS

Lord Mayor MacSweeney Still on Hunger Strike in Prison — Order-in-Council Enforces New Irish Act

MULLINGAR, Ireland, Aug. 20.—One hundred armed raiders attacked the police barracks at Ballymahon near here last night, and compelled the garrison to leave the premises, after a battle lasting an hour. Rifles and bombs were used by the raiding party. The barracks were burned. Stout resistance was offered by the policemen until their commanding sergeant was badly wounded. The raiders permitted the policemen to depart unmolested after they had turned over the barracks.

ROSCOMMON, Ireland, Aug. 20.—A woman, accused of violating the boycott against the police by supplying policemen with milk, is reported to have been seized by four men, who fastened pig rings into her flesh with pinchers. The rings were not removed for two days.

DUBLIN, Aug. 20.—Mail robberies again were carried out today. Armed raiders held up a train from Cork for Macroom and seized the official mails. Another train was stopped at Newcastle, County Wicklow, and official mails stolen.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Miss MacSweeney today saw her brother, the Lord Mayor of Cork, who is in Brixton prison under a sentence of two years' imprisonment by a court-martial on a charge of sedition. She said she found Mr. MacSweeney very weak, but determined to continue his hunger strike to the end.

The Under Secretary for Home Affairs, Sir Ernley Blakewell, told Miss MacSweeney the Government would certainly not release her brother.

"Do you mean," she asked the Under Secretary, "that you are going to let him die in prison?"

Sir Ernley replied, according to Miss MacSweeney, that it was the decision of the Government that none of the Irish prisoners would be released as a result of their refusal to take food.

Miss MacSweeney told Sir Ernley that if her brother was allowed to die in prison all Ireland would hold the Home Secretary and the Government responsible for "his murder."

CORK, Aug. 20.—Four hunger strikers in the local jail were removed to the city hospital this afternoon. Fearing that the hunger strikers will die, Deputy-Lord Mayor O'Callahan has written to Cardinal Logue, the archbishop, the lord mayors and the mayors of Ireland, calling their attention to the situation.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The London Gazette prints tonight an order-in-council putting the new Irish act into operation forthwith. It is a long document of six pages. It gives minute regulations as to how the act will be enforced, but does not stipulate localities where it will be enforced.

DUBLIN, Aug. 20.—Dublin Castle issued tonight a statement that the regulations for the operation of the new Restoration of Order Act will not be applied in substitution of ordinary law whenever the ordinary law is available and not obstructed by violence and intimidation.

FURNISH CHINA WITH HARD TASK

Anti-Bolsheviki Forces Retreating in Siberia Are Expected to Cross Manchurian Border

PEKIN, China, Aug. 14.—China is confronted with a serious situation growing out of the eastward retirement in Siberia of between 18,000 and 20,000 Semenoff and Kaippell anti-Bolsheviki troops toward the Manchurian frontier. These forces, entirely dependent upon Japanese support to resist the advance of Bolsheviki hordes, are falling back in consequence of Japanese withdrawal from the territory around Chita.

Bolsheviki forces in large numbers appeared in the trans-Baikal country, coming from European Russia, according to Japanese advices. The Japanese in this area, co-operating with the Semenoff and Kaippell troops, engaged with the Bolsheviki during the Spring.

The Japanese War Ministry last month announced its intention to gradually withdraw some of its troops from Chita and Khabarovsk. This withdrawal, now being accomplished, is followed by retirement of the anti-Bolsheviki forces in the rear of the Japanese.

These anti-Bolsheviki forces are at present encamped in Dauria, trans-Baikalia, close to the Manchurian station on the Chinese Eastern Railroad, along which railway the Japanese withdrawal is accomplished.

The Chinese general staff has taken steps to disarm the Russian forces if they undertake to enter Manchuria.

POLES DRIVE ENEMY EASTWARD WITH UNDIMINISHING SUCCESS AND REACH THEIR OWN BORDER

VICTORIA CROSS MEN WILL TRAVEL FREE

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—It was announced this evening by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia and Defense, that the Government had decided to assume the railway expenses in connection with the plan of bringing together all Canadian Victoria Cross heroes at Toronto.

A deputation, headed by Captain Patterson, recently urged that the Government assist the plan. It is expected that the cost of the railway fares will be in the neighborhood of $5,000.

TAX DELINQUENTS WILL BE PROSECUTED

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—Delinquent income taxpayers are to be brought to time within the next few days, according to C. H. Glendenning, inspector of taxation in the Province.

Orders for 175 writs have been sent to Ottawa to be served by the Government in this Province, and are expected here shortly.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN FOR LOCAL TRADE

Manufacturers Out for Bigger Share of Home Business—Pledge Support to Made-in-Victoria Movement

To secure a bigger slice of the home trade is the objective of the campaign launced yesterday by Victoria manufacturers at a luncheon held in the Dominion Hotel.

It will be a clear-cut, hard-hitting, consistent campaign, attaining its maximum intensity during Made-in-Victoria Week, September 6 to 11, but it will take an active form for a long time after that, if the sentiment expressed by speakers at the luncheon are to be taken as an indication of local manufacturers' determination to cut a bigger figure in domestic business.

"The trouble with most of you Victoria manufacturers is that you don't advertise enough," declared Mr. W. T. Williams, president of the Nag Paint Company. "If the outside man is willing to go to the expense of telling the public about his goods and why they should be patronized, he deserves to get the trade and he gets it. So long as the local manufacturer sits back and does nothing to attract attention to his line he can't expect to get results and he won't get them."

The Big Chance Coming

Mr. J. Carl Pendray, president of the Victoria and Island Development Association, said that during Made-in-Victoria Week local manufacturers would be afforded an unparalleled opportunity of getting before the public, and he said that it was the duty of every manufacturer to himself and to the community as an industrial

Bolshevik Officials Monopolize Comfort

Eat Good Food and Dress Well, While Poor People Suffer—Country Stripped of Goods for Their Benefit—Many Paper Roubles Needed to Procure Supplies

HELSINGFORS, Aug. 20.—Of all the cities a traveler sees in crossing Russia, Moscow seems to present an appearance the nearest to normal. The whole country contributes to its upkeep. From as far east as Irkutsk shelves of shops have been stripped of supplies and manufactured articles, while even the household goods of well-to-do individuals have been shipped to the Soviet capital and the city houses, also the war booty taken by the Bolsheviki after they occupied Siberia.

During a brief stop in the city, whence he was deported to Finland because of making a trip across Russia from Vladivostok without advance Soviet authorization, the correspondent of the Associated Press was particularly impressed by the busy aspect of the thoroughfares.

Upon entering Moscow one notes immediately the appearance on the streets of a large number of well-dressed pedestrians. There also is an animated traffic of street cars, automobiles and carriages.

Only a few stores are open, there being block after block of dirty shop fronts used for posting of Bolsheviki propaganda.

Markets and bazaars are open, and it is possible in such places to buy a great variety of food, including meat, white bread, fruits and sugar.

Many reports of the conditions of Russian cities are exaggerated. One to the effect that Moscow's trees have been cut down and wooden buildings razed certainly seems untrue, yet Moscow, like the entire country from Irktusk to Petrograd, is in a frenzy of wood-chopping in preparation for Winter.

The picture of Moscow which an American correspondent sees in a censored view is obtained while being piloted about by a Bolsheviki interpreter. Without this attendant, the correspondent could not leave the Bolsheviki great house. The officials continually probe visitors for their impressions. It is apparent that behind the curtain of appearances is the real Moscow. The well-dressed persons appearing in the streets, it is said, are Soviet officers and commissars, and their friends or favorites, who have been permitted to requisition the supplies remaining in Moscow or being sent in from Siberia and other reclaimed districts.

The bazaars give a fairly genuine insight into the real life of Moscow. There are thousands of speculators made up of women, soldiers and workers who daily risk arrest for trading in supplies other than the black bread, soup and cooked grain which the Government issues.

Prices preclude purchases except by speculators and by those earning more than three to five thousand rubles monthly, the amount which the Bolsheviki pay workmen. In these markets the American dollar brings from two to three thousand rubles. (The comparison with the American dollar's value apparently pertains to the paper ruble).

While the masses of the people struggle to obtain a daily supply of food the extra rationed classes of Government officials eat plentifully of white bread and meat.

The problem of obtaining food has become a chief concern to the cities. Garden-grown potatoes and cabbages are expected to make the populous centres partially independent of the country for supplies this Winter.

Pilsudski's Army Arrives at Middle Bug River and Marches Down Stream With Object of Joining Left Wing and Cutting Chief Line of Retreat for Bolsheviki

MORALE OF ENEMY BADLY SHATTERED

Poles' Victories Are Won With Comparatively Little Fighting—Brest-Litovsk Garrison Said to Be Cut Off—General Weygand Gives Full Credit to Polish Commanders

PARIS, Aug. 20.—General Pilsudski's army has reached the middle Bug River according to plan and is marching down the stream to join the army advancing up the fork between the Bug and Narew Rivers toward Ostrolenka with the object of cutting the Warsaw-Bialystok road, their enemy's sole avenue of retreat. Down this road the Reds are bolting, profiting by the large numbers of horses in their possession. The fact that they have horses is said to account for the comparatively small number of prisoners taken by the Poles. Pursuing French airplanes, however, have prevented the enemy from taking with him many guns and much material. Up to date, seven Bolsheviki divisions have been cut to pieces and all their guns captured.

Polish forces at Brest-Litovsk are supported by a Ukrainian division and General Balachowichz's Russian volunteer army, which had remained in Polesia, east of Brest-Litovsk, and to the rear of the Bolsheviki. The Bolsheviki garrison at Brest-Litovsk is virtually cut off on all sides.

WARSAW, Aug. 20.—Poland's army is rapidly following up the retreating enemy northeast and east of Warsaw, and further successes for the Poles are reported. The recapture of Sokolow, Drohiczyn and Biala, with thousands of prisoners and great amounts of war material, is reported in today's official communique. At Siedlce the Poles captured armed volunteer Jewish detachments composed of local communists.

To the northwest of Warsaw, the Bolsheviki attacked Plock in a drive designed to carry them across the Vistula, where there is a pontoon bridge, but a Polish counter-stroke broke the attack. In this operation the Poles were aided by civilians, who fought side by side with the infantrymen.

Peasants in the region of Lipno, southeast of Thorn, are reported to be fighting the Bolsheviki with axes and scythes. Newspaper accounts of the operations there say the peasants are taking no prisoners.

Weygand Gives Credit to Poles

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The success of the Poles in throwing back the Bolsheviki in the battle of Warsaw was a "Polish victory," the French General, Weygand, told delegations at Warsaw who had come to tell him that he was the most popular man in Poland and was proclaimed by all as the "Savior of Warsaw."

Advices received here from the Polish capital quote General Weygand in response to the delegation as follows:

"Preparatory military operations were executed by the Polish generals, according to the Polish plan. My role, as well as that of the other French officers, was limited to filling certain gaps in the details of execution. It is the Polish nation that has been its own savior."

Decided by Morale

LONDON, Aug. 20.—A dispatch to The London Times from Warsaw, dated Friday, says it is understood the Polish general commanding the right wing has been ordered as far as possible to keep within the frontier laid down by David Lloyd George, the British Premier.

The dispatch adds that there has not been much severe fighting, and that battles seem to be decided entirely by morale.

French Congratulations

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Congratulations to the French diplomatic and military missions in Poland "for the part which they played in the victory of the Polish armies," have been sent to the French Minister at Warsaw by Premier Millerand. In another telegram addressed to J. J. Jusserand, head of the French mission, the Premier asks that congratulations be offered to General Pilsudski "for the glory with which the Polish army has just covered itself."

"France," says the latter message, "which always had faith in the patriotism of the Polish people, welcomes with joy a victory saving Poland, and assuring the accomplishment of her historical destiny."

COAL DEALERS DECIDE AGAINST JOINT BODY

CALGARY, Aug. 20.—That in view of the fact that there are at present organizations of Alberta coal operators, embracing most of the coal operators of Western Canada, it is not considered advisable at the present time to form an association composed of dealers and operators, but that in the interest of the coal industry efficient organization of coal dealers of the three Western Provinces be formed to deal with the questions of mutual aid and vital interest, was the recommendation of the committee appointed at the convention being held in Calgary, which had met to consider the advisability of the formation of such an organization.

It was further suggested that a joint conference be held once a year between the operators and dealers.

Silver Price Jumps Again

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Silver advanced 2¾ pence in the local market today owing to the small amount offered and the fact that China continues to send fair-sized buying orders.

Killed by Gasoline Explosion

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Two men were killed and 12 hurt when a 2,000-gallon gasoline reservoir exploded here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. Among the injured is J. B. Jardine, secretary of the Toronto Harbor Commission. His injuries are not believed to be of a serious nature.

PROBLEM OF HOUSING GROWS MORE ACUTE

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—With the return to the city and within a few weeks of thousands of city people who have been spending the summer months in the open, the housing problem in all the big centres of population in Canada—as indeed in many other parts of the world—is becoming more and more acute.

Reports from many Canadian cities indicate that but very little house building has been done during the summer months owing to the high cost of labor and materials. There are not nearly enough new houses or new apartments to supply the summer's crop of newly-married couples, and in scores of cases the roses of newly-weds are already bristling with the thorns that come with vexatious, unsuccessful house hunting. The owners of such accommodations as are available are asking unheard of prices, supposedly justified by the big demand and the high price of fuel.

Provincial governments and municipal councils have so far been unable to solve the problem, though many of them have "taken a whack at it." It has been suggested that the Dominion government should take the matter up, but it is obvious that the Dominion government can not sow broadcast cottages like Victory bonds.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—The housing conditions in Montreal, while better than they were, are by no means normal and it is expected that the situation will become very critical when all the people, who are at present away for the summer, return to the city. The provincial government has offered the city of Montreal a grant of $1,000,000, which has been accepted. No building operations have been begun yet. It is conservatively estimated that over 30,000 people are without real homes here.

PRESSMEN VIEW EMPIRE MATTERS

Speeches at Calgary Citizens' Banquet Take Practical Tone —Lord Burnham and Mr. Bennett Urge Reciprocity

CALGARY, Aug. 20.—Lord Burnham, the chairman of the Imperial Press delegation, at a citizens' banquet tendered the visitors at the Palliser Hotel Thursday evening, dealt with the ideals of British freedom, which he said none but the anarchist or the madman wished to eliminate or destroy.

"The British Empire is good enough for us," he remarked. He could not believe that its freedom could be much greater, and although here and there there were malcontents who probably wanted to gain some little notoriety by some singularly objectionable utterance, the British Empire stood, as it has always stood, for freedom of the world, and they believed in their hearts that it would be a bad day when the British Empire ceased to be the predominant power in the world's affairs.

Straight Talk

One of the outstanding features was the fact that there were no platitudes on the part of those who spoke in welcoming the visitors. Rather was there some very straight talk, which the Imperial Press delegates, doubtless, much preferred hearing. Notably was this the case when R. B. Bennett, K. C., pointed to a number of instances where the pressmen might help to further consolidate the bonds of the Empire. His oration, and that of Lord Burnham, were masterpieces of rhetoric and were applauded to the echo.

Lord Burnham, in continuing his address, remarked that Mr. Bennett had said that in some cases Great Britain was not doing by Canada as fairly as Canada was doing by Great Britain. "One of the advantages of this tour," said His Lordship, "is to convince us, one and all, that to maintain the strength and sympathy of our unity there must be complete reciprocity of benefaction, and you can rely upon it that there will be none who will be more willing to stand for fair treatment of this great Dominion than the writers of the British press assembled in this hall."

Should Visit Dominions

It would be a good thing, he said, if statesmen and those who had the shaping of their fate in their hands were to visit the great Dominions beyond the seas. He might go further, and say that all the permanent officials might do well to leave their workrooms at Downing Street and Whitehall and see a little of the great expanse of Western Canada and note the growth of its infant industries. "At least something should be done," said the speaker, "in order that a gleam of real intelligence, which comes from knowing men as well as things, should break through the clods of official ignorance and official apathy." He believed that the men of his party would appreciate the better the greatness of this Dominion by their visit.

His Lordship said they would carry back with them one clear idea. It was not the illimitable space of the Prairies, or any other part of that continent, but the secret of Canada's greatness was the marvelous enterprise of its citizens. He said that it seemed strange to him that when he was last in these parts he saw great piles of buffalo bones and gimcrack stations, and in passing, he paid a great tribute to the Canadian Pacific Railway for their enterprise in linking up the Atlantic with the Pacific in the manner they had done. That company, he said, had shown much foresight and imagination.

Mutual Assistance

R. B. Bennett, K. C., who had preceded Lord Burnham, in proposing the toast of "Our Guests" remarked that while he appreciated the pleasure of proposing the toast, he did so with some measure of diffidence. "We recognise in the press," he said, "one of the greatest factors in the world's civilization." If they were only concerned in extending a welcome to their friends from overseas, it would be a simple matter, but he conceived it a larger duty to endeavor in some way to interpret the genius of Canadian civilization and how it reflected the spirit of this people.

What they wanted, he said, in referring to closer relationship with the Old Country, was that Britain should buy more from them; that Canada should buy more from Britain; that Britain should invest her surplus capital here. They believed that there was more safety for investments in their land under the old flag. He referred to the embargo placed upon Canada's cattle in Britain, remarking that while the United States had put on a tariff, Britain had stated it would not have their cattle at all, because they were suffering from disease, when they, as Canadians, knew they were not.

Big Crop in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 20.—Kansas raised the second largest wheat crop in its history this year and the corn crop promises to be the largest in the last five years, the state board of agriculture reported today. A total wheat yield of 147,000,000 bushels and a production of 127,000,000 bushels of corn was estimated.

QUEBEC WILL KEEP ITS SCHOOL SYSTEM

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—Opposition to the standardization of the school system throughout the Dominion and the consequent uniformity of teachers' certificates and diplomas, is expected from the Province of Quebec by the supporters of the plan in other Provinces, according to a number of educationists in this city. Those of the Catholic School Commissioners who were asked for a statement on the subject yesterday, immediately referred to the fact that the Province of Quebec had been granted special rights with regard to education at the time of Confederation, and that the people since then had not shown themselves inclined to depart from the path they had chosen when the British North America Act was drawn up.

Religious reasons for the opposition to the standardization of schools were those dwelt upon most. The fact that all religious teaching would necessarily be excluded from the schools was sufficient to arouse the opposition of Roman Catholics, according to the Rev. J. C. Brophy.

BRITISH CONQUER THEIR TROUBLES

Sir George Perley Talks Optimistically of Conditions in Mother Country—Canadian Trade Chances in Europe

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Great Britain is having her troubles, and lots of them, but she will pull out all right and maintain her smile upon civilization, is how Sir George Perley, Canadian High Commissioner in London, expressed himself to the Canadian Press today on his return from the Old Country, along with Lady Perley.

"The sound common sense of the British people in the Old Land is simply wonderful. They take their troubles philosophically, and have managed everything exceedingly well during these trying months since Armistice Day. Last year, when a railway strike broke, they just set to work and became their own railwaymen, and soon the strike was ended," he said.

Sir George was extremely pleased with the changed position regarding Poland. Along with other prominent men who were with him, he expressed the belief that the new turn of events would result in the mixup between the Bolsheviks and Poles being straightened out much more quickly than if the Reds had reached Warsaw.

Asked regarding Canadian trade in Europe, Sir George said the outlook was never so bright. He strongly counselled Canadian merchants to buy every possible dollar's worth of goods in Great Britain rather than in the United States. This, he said, would have a double advantage in that it would strengthen Empire relations, and also offset the exchange situation.

MONEY PROSPECT SEEMS UNCERTAIN

Sir John Aird Predicts Continuation of Tightness for Some Time — Other Authorities Differ—Government's Needs

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—The Evening Telegram's financial page carries the following:

"Opinion is very much divided in local financial circles regarding the money outlook. Sir John Aird, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, foresees a continuation of restricted credits for some months, possibly until the turn of the year. Brokers, on the other hand, who are conversant with stock market conditions, both here and in the United States, look for a slight let-up in call money restrictions at all events, within a few weeks, followed by a generally easier period.

"Hitherto the cause of the money tightness has been attributed to the necessity for funds for crop movement, but a new factor was mentioned by an authoritative banker this morning when he pointed out that once the crop is moved the banks rather anticipate heavy calls will be made upon them by the Government at Ottawa, which will continue to tie up funds which would otherwise come into the market.

"News that the Government might have to make heavy demands upon the banks came as a surprise to a broker closely connected with the Victory Loan situation. He said that if the budget were working at all along the lines expected, he could not see why Ottawa should have to fall back on the bankers to any large extent. He pointed out, however, that much would depend on the result of the railroad rate investigation. If the requested increases were granted, it would remove still further the need of Government financing.

"On the other hand, if the increases were not allowed, some temporary provision would doubtless have to be made to care for the heavy Canadian National deficit."

YOUNG VERNON MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

VERNON, Aug. 20.—A coroner's inquest was held today on the death of J. Warren Davis, whose body was found yesterday in a room in the Royal Hotel.

The deceased was a young man about 35 years, who had recently arrived from England, and from papers found among his effects it is indicated that he has a wife and two young children at Milford Haven, England, and that he had had a commission during the war in a Welsh regiment.

He purchased an ounce of arsenic at a local drug store, ostensibly for spraying purposes. He left a letter stating that he intended to end his life. The verdict was that he came to his death through poison administered by his own hand.

RAILWAY WAGES TO BE INCREASED

President Kelley Announces at Rate Hearing That Association Recommends Application of Chicago Award

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Because they believe that the failure to do so would precipitate a general railway strike throughout Canada, the Canadian Railway Association has decided to recommend to Canadian roads the adoption of the wage schedule passed by the Chicago Labor Board of the United States.

This statement was made by Howard G. Kelley, president of the Canadian Railway Association and of the Grand Trunk Railway, before the Dominion Railway Commission this morning. Announcement of the decision of the railway association was made by Mr. Kelley during the progress of argument for the railways in their application for increased freight and passenger rates.

Mr. Kelley read to the Board a statement covering the advances in railway wages since the year 1917. He stated that a railway wage commission had been appointed in the United States during the year 1918, which had gone exhaustively into the question of wages and made a report. This had resulted in the issuance of the order which was known as the McAdoo award. Early in 1918 the Canadian Railway War Board had been notified by employees of Canadian railways that they also wanted increases, and finally, through the action of the Dominion Government, which authorized an advance in freight rates, the roads were enabled to make the McAdoo award applicable to lines in the Dominion.

Further applications, said Mr. Kelley, had been pressed during the past year in the United States, and serious unrest was apparent.

Finally the Labor Board which was appointed in that country had issued, on July 20, 1920, an award granting to American employees further increases in wages. Applications were being received from the Canadian employees of similar increases, which would mean a further charge to Canadian roads of approximately $65,000,000 a year.

Government returns, said Mr. Kelley, showed that a large proportion of the unions to which railway employees were members were international. Of these unions 92 per cent of the members were Americans and the remaining 8 per cent Canadians. The Canadian members of the unions claimed that they were entitled to the same wage scale as their American brothers. A general tariff has prevailed for many years.

Taking all these things into consideration, said Mr. Kelley, the Canadian Railway Association has decided to recommend the adoption by Canadian roads of the Chicago award. He went on to state that it would mean an enormous addition to the costs of the Canadian railways. They felt, however, that they must do it, or take the consequences.

Chief Commissioner Carvell: "What are the consequences? We might as well have this thing out."

Mr. Kelley: "A general strike throughout the country."

Mr. Carvell: "You believe there would be a general strike if the award was not granted?"

Mr. Kelley: "I certainly do."

Mr. Carvell asked if the increases would date back to the first of May, and Mr. Kelley replied that they would. In answer to Mr. Symington, Mr. Kelley declared that most careful consideration had been given before the association had decided to recommend an acceptance of the full award. J. B. Coyne remarked that the railways would be paying wages which were 257 per cent of those prevailing in 1914.

A brief argument in support of the railway rate increases was put in by W. C. Chisholm, K.C., on behalf of the Grand Trunk Railway. He said that the Grand Trunk was not yet a Goverment road, though it was heading in that direction. There was, however, no reason why a government-owned road should not be allowed such rates as would permit it to pay its way. The Grand Trunk needed the increase. Its operating ratio for 1920 would be about 99.97.

The argument for the railways was concluded by Mr. Chisholm, unless something unforeseen should occur.

Appearing for the railways, W. N. Tilley, counsel for the C.P.R., basing his deductions upon the present position of that company, urged that the applications be granted in full. He maintained that with the granting of the original application for a 30 per cent increase the C.P.R. would just about break even, and that if there is no increase the deficit on this year's operations would exceed $37,000,000. The granting of the supplementary application of 10 per cent to cover prospective wage increases would mean a deficit of over four million dollars on account of wages. But a 10 per cent increase to cover increased operation in effect for a full twelve months would yield $25,000,000. Increased wages for a year under the terms of the Chicago award would cost the company $22,000,000, leaving an estimated surplus of $3,000,000 for the first complete twelve months' operating period after the new rates become effective.

POLES ADVANCE IN TWO SECTORS

Continue Their Success Over Bolsheviki Forces on Central and Northern Fronts—Russians Draw Nearer Lemberg

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The military successes of the Poles continued yesterday, according to a report to the Foreign Office today, from the military mission in Warsaw, under plans elaborated by the French general, Weygand, and his staff of more than 600 French officers.

These officers now are either actively in command of the forces that are freeing Warsaw from the Soviet menace, or are aiding the Polish commanders.

It is considered that French and Polish co-operation in the commands of the various forces now has reached a satisfactory stage. J. J. Jusserand and Lord d'Abernon, respectively the heads of the French and British missions to Poland, have returned to Warsaw from Posen for a conference with General Weygand and the Polish staff. The situation at Danzig is still causing worry, but it is expected to be cleared up when two French battleships, now on the way there, arrive and offer Sir Reginald T. Tower, the Allied high commissioner at Danzig, sufficient forces to control the docks and permit the unloading of Polish munitions.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Russian soviet forces have abandoned Lukow, 68 miles southeast of Warsaw, and Radin, 80 miles to the southeast of the Polish capital, according to Thursday's communique issued by the Moscow government. The communique claims that the Poles were driven back seven miles from Ciechanow, 45 miles northwest of Warsaw.

WARSAW, Aug. 20.—The extreme right wing of the Polish army is marching on Brest-Litovsk, 120 miles east of Warsaw, according to an official statement issued shortly before last midnight. The right wing has captured Siedlce and Biala.

The Polish left wing has taken Pultusk, about 35 miles north of Warsaw, and is continuing its progress in the direction of Mlawa. In the centre the Polish forces are marching in the direction of Ostrlenka, 22 miles southwest of Lomza.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The Temps announced today that the French government has received advices that Polish troops have occupied Biala, 25 miles west of Brest-Litovsk.

General Budenny's soviet cavalry, however, is progressing in the direction of Lemberg, the centre from which the Poles withdrew troops to reinforce the northern front, the Temps says.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Brest-Litovsk has been occupied by the Polish army, according to advices received today by the State Department from the American commissioner at Berlin. His dispatch was based on a report received by him from Posen.

The army of General Wrangel has checked the advance of the Bolsheviki in the direction of Southern Russia, and has driven them back across the lower portion of the Dnieper River, according to official advices received by the State Department.

FIGHTS CONTINUE IN UPPER SILESIA

Polish Troops Occupy Border Territory and Are Attacked by Citizens' Guard--German Inhabitants in Ugly Temper

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Poles have occupied the border territory of Upper Silesia, 2,000 troops having seized many villages in the Kattowitz district, according to Berlin dispatches.

There was heavy fighting between the citizen guard and the Poles north of Bogutschuetz, and many were killed or wounded. All the houses and shops in Lauraheute were plundered.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—A force of security police, accompanied by armed civilians, has been sent from Upper Silesia to intercept a Polish "shock" force, says a press dispatch.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—In high official quarters it is said that the German government has been consigned to the role of a mere onlooker in the Upper Silesian disturbances, as the rights of that territory have been transferred to the inter-Allied governments.

The present rioting in Kattowitz seemingly has come as no surprise to official quarters.

The workers and all classes of the population in Upper Silesia are reported to be firmly determined to have Germany's neutrality rigidly observed in connection with the Russo-Polish war. This attitude is believed to have been the pretext for the present outbreak.

The German press hitherto has been chary in its comment on the situation. While deploring the outbreaks in Upper Silesia, because, it says, they are likely still further to complicate Germany's tangled foreign situation, the Taglische Rundschau expresses the belief that the occurrences have given "evidence of a healthy national will, which will prove Upper Silesia faithful to Germany when the ballots are counted."

DELEGATES TALK ON PEACE TERMS

Second Sitting of Minsk Conference Held on Thursday—Russian Profession of Regard for Polish Independence

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The second sitting of the Russo-Polish peace conference at Minsk took place Thursday, and a summary of Russia's term was communicated to the Poles. They were substantially the same as those the Russian delegation published in London, says a Moscow official statement received today.

Stated orders for the conference were agreed upon. Toward the end of the session the Russians protested against the Poles' efforts to drag the negotiations, the statement says.

MINSK, Aug. 17.—Soviet Russia is eager for peace with Poland and does not desire to interfere with the integrity of that country, said a Bolsheviki representative in addressing Polish delegates to the peace conference today.

WARSAW, Aug. 20.—Polish delegates on their way to Minsk to meet Russian representatives encountered interminable delays, and were forced merely to crawl along over ruined roads in the battle zone east of the city, says a delayed dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent who accompanied the party.

The delegation left Warsaw at dawn on Saturday, and by Sunday afternoon it had not reached Brest-Litovsk, which is but four hours' distant by automobile in normal times.

When that city was reached, M. Dombski, head of the Polish Mission, refused to go further if communications with Warsaw were not established. It was not until late Sunday night the delegation boarded a special train for Minsk.

The terms laid down by the Russian Soviet Government for an armistice with Poland, as sent to Premier Lloyd George by the Russian delegation in London, on August 10, were:

The strength of the Polish army to be reduced to one annual contingent of 50,000 men, together with the army command and an "army of administration," to aggregate 10,000 men.

Demobilization of Polish army to occur within one month.

All arms, excluding those needed for the army forces specified, to be handed over to soviet Russia and the Ukraine.

All war industries to be demobilized.

No troops or war material to be allowed to come from abroad.

The line of Wolkovisk, Bialystok and Prawevo to be placed fully at the disposal of Russia for commercial transit to and from the Baltic.

Land to be given free to the families of all Polish citizens killed, wounded or incapacitated in the war.

In return Russia offered to withdraw troops from the Polish front simultaneously with the Polish demobilization, and to reduce considerably the number of troops on the Russian frontier line.

The final frontier of the independent state of Poland, would in the main be identical with the line indicated in the note of Earl Curzon, the British Foreign Minister, of July 30. Russia stipulated, however, that additional territory should be given Poland on the east.

FROST DOES DAMAGE TO REGINA GARDENS

REGINA, Aug. 20.—Potatoes in unprotected fields and gardens are black today as the result of frost last night. Beans, cucumbers and other garden stuff susceptible to light frosts also suffered. The official thermometer registered 33.

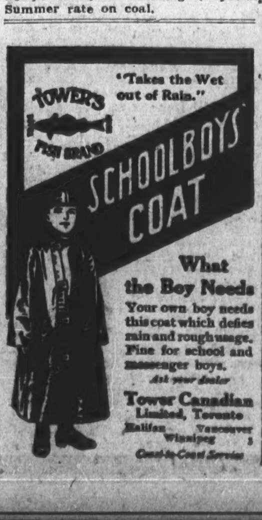

Small gardens protected by hedges, high fences or buildings escaped almost unscathed.

SASKATOON, Aug. 20.—The peak of the influx of harvest help occurred this morning with the arrival of 1,500 men from the East. Over six thousand men have now passed through the city. Cutting is general in all parts of the district. Wages are $5 and $6 a day. The thermometer dropped to 34.5 here last night.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20.—Three trains over the Canadian Pacific Railway tonight, and one over the Canadian National Saturday morning, will finish the harvesters' invasion from the East for the time being. With those arrivals the 30,000 men asked for by Government agents have been supplied. It is possible the railroads will be asked to furnish a further 10,000 men to supply the expected needs in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Opposed to Higher Coal Rates

CALGARY, Aug. 20.—Protests against the proposed general increase in freight rates, in so far as they apply to coal, were voiced at the convention of Western Canada coal operators and retail dealers from Winnipeg west here. Mr. Fairbairn, chairman of the Canadian Trade Commission, stated there was no possibility of securing a special Summer rate on coal.

DIVES INTO RIVER NEAR SUCTION PIPES

PORTLAND, Aug. 20.—A boy, believed to be Herbert Geis, 15, dived into the Willamette River here today near the entrance to the suction pipes supplying the generator plant of the Portland Light & Power Company.

His body has not been recovered, although the machinery drawing the water into the pipes was stopped and reversed.

Officials of the corporation say the body was not sucked into the pipes, but grappling in the vicinity has failed to disclose the body. The city grappler was of the opinion that the boy's body was taken through the pipes.

PATRIOTISM'S EFFORT

A part at least of the success which is attending the Polish forces in their drive against the invading Soviet troops is due to the spirit of patriotism with which the country is endowed in such large measure. Even the peasants are fighting the enemy with axes and scythes. The offensive seems to have been engineered by the Poles themselves, aided by some technical advice from French staff officers, and the credit belongs to General Pilsudski, the intense patriotism and the fighting qualities of the troops in his command. What the Polish troops are accomplishing now is a remarkable military feat because of the strength by which they are opposed. Within a few days an entire change has come over the situation and in the light of what is happening the terms for an armistice proposed by the Russians savor of opera bouffe. Those terms will have to be revised before there is peace, and it may be that Poland, as a sovereign power which has not been defeated, will be able to lay down her own provisions under which an armistice will be granted.

The present is a testing time for Bolshevism for practically all its strength lies in the military prowess it has been able to display. Lenine and Trotzky have governed, and are governing, by armed force, just as any autocracy must. The effect throughout Russia of the defeat of the Soviet troops by the army of an insignificant state like Poland is liable to be a considerable diminution in the belief in the machine gun and bayonet by means of which Sovietism rules. This is one aspect of the situation. Another possibility is that the commandeering powers of the Moscow Government may again be brought into play to summon into the field the workmen of Russia in an endeavor to inflict revenge on Poland for the present setback. It would seem, however, that because of what amounts to a distinct defeat for Soviet militarism the Moscow authorities will be anxious to conclude peace with Poland so that they may turn their attention to the incursions being made into their territory by the forces of General Wrangel. A campaign in the south, where the hopes of General Denikine were buried, offers more possibility of success than any attempt at revenge upon the Poles. In the meantime the Poles, in their gallant effort to save themselves are, incidentally, saving Europe from a menace which would eventually have meant a new world war. If they are successful Europe and humanity will owe them an immense debt which can only be discharged by ironbound guarantees in the future for the sovereignty of Poland and the maintenance of that freedom which was won after centuries of suffering.

MINISTERS' TOURS

Although tours of Provincial cabinet ministers are usually associated with the coming of an election they are useful in their purpose if not too much concerned with the dissemination of party politics. When Premier Oliver was in the Peace River district recently he spent a good deal of time in dealing with the mistakes of the Government which preceded his, but the people whom he addressed were willing to "let the dead past bury its dead," and were more interested in knowing what was the Premier's policy in the matter of continuing the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Pouce Coupe and beyond. The attitude of the residents of that part of British Columbia should be a reminder to the Premier that the people of this Province as a whole are big enough and broad enough to deal with the present and look forward to the future without having their efforts handicapped and their thoughts of progress tarnished by whatever mistakes may have been made in the past.

The present Provincial Government, when an election comes, will be judged by its own record and that alone. The Premier and his ministers might as well put an end to recriminations on subjects which have long since ceased to attract public attention. If it is true, as Dr. MacLean says, that the population of British Columbia has increased to 680,000 during the past six or seven years then there is a new population whose concern in the Province is of an extremely modern character. These newcomers "knew not" the previous government and care nothing about the guilt imputed to it by Premier Oliver. What they want to know is what the present Government is doing, or prepared to do, to advance prosperity, and it is to these subjects that the Premier and his colleagues might well address themselves during their political trips. Such tours are capable of being translated into a useful purpose for they acquaint the ministers with the problems of sparsely settled districts and give them an inkling of the diversity of legislation which is needed to meet the topographical contradictions of a country such as British Columbia. If it is for this purpose the tours are made so much the better; if it is so that purely partisan speeches may be delivered then they very often fail in their object, inasmuch as the experience of the past has shown how travelling ministers fail to sense the political aspirations of their audiences and just weary them with statements regarding subjects which have neither an academic or practical bearing on local problems.

We do not think Premier Oliver is paving the way for an election this year since no useful purpose would be served by an appeal to the people at this stage. No harm is done anyone by the tours upon which he and his ministers have been engaged during the present Summer; indeed, we often think that the affairs of the Province can be run by departmental heads to much better advantage than by the cabinet during the greater part of the year. It is the duty of ministers of a government to know at first hand all parts of the territory which they administer and there is always something new to learn about British Columbia. Premier Oliver is about to leave on a visit to a part of the Province where he has never been before. His vision should, in consequence, be enlarged, and it is only right there should be a constant process of education in one who enjoys such power in a Province like British Columbia.

VAULE OF WATER SUPPLY

The installation of a water supply in certain districts of Saanich, and in the district of Gordon Head particularly, will prove a profitable investment. We are dealing solely with the matter of water for domestic purposes. The question of irrigation is another story and requires separate treatment. Modern conditions require modern appliances wherever they are procurable upon terms that are not beyond capacity of payment. It is a great attraction to settlers when the circumstances of a settlement are such as to lighten the tasks of those who have to discharge the domestic duties of a household. The fact is fully established that women generally have the determining voice in the selection of a place of residence, particularly when the prospective purchasers are sufficiently endowed with means to be independent, to a certain extent, of the productive qualities of the land they select, conditions which are applicable to a number of the people who are settling in Gordon Head district. Availability of water, therefore, would be a great attraction there and would materially increase the selling value of all property.

It is a question for experts to settle, of course, but it seems reasonable to assume that it would be cheaper in the end for the community in such a locality to pay in the aggregate for the laying on of water than for individuals to experiment with wells and probably in many cases obtain only a meagre supply, with the risk of having none at all during exceptionally dry seasons. Those are aspects of the matter that do not appear to have been discussed as adequately, or considered as broadly, as the circumstances of the case require. Then there is the consideration of protection from fire. Many a destructive outbreak might be checked in its incipient stage given even the most primitive appliances conveniently at hand at the right time.

The organ of the Liberty League of British Columbia, the first issue of which is in print, has at least the merit of candour. It is straightforward and unafraid in its advocacy of Government control of the sale of liquor in British Columbia. Its policy is to meet and combat any and all arguments advanced by the Prohibition Party, and while we cannot endorse its statement that; "where ruthlessness is necessary the criticism will be in keeping therewith," it is quite true when it says that no malicious comment can be found on its opening pages. It is not our province to give advice to the Liberty League but we would suggest that the purpose it has in view will be served by sane, constructive argument divorced from all "ruthlessness." The good sense of a British people needs no missionary with a whip, and for this reason "Liberty," as the new organ is called, will consult its own best interests by making subsequent issues adhere to the same policy as is displayed in Number 1 of Volume 1 to which we now draw attention.

Declining the Invitation

We are inclined to think Mr. Crowe, of Canada, will have to content himself with hoping without hope for the fulfilment of his desire for Federation and to see "Bermuda becoming the first tropical province of Canada." Bermuda doesn't even want to become an Episcopal Diocese of Canada—her ties, her thoughts, her most intimate historic associations are all with the homeland, the great mother of the Empire. If it ever comes to the choice, a British General of distinction for Governor—or a Canadian politician, fond as we all are of our Canadian brethren, high as we hold them in honor for their war service, just as sure as the Bermuda continents associated themselves with units of the homeland and not with the Canadian Army; just as certain as was an English steamship line's development proposals favored and those of the Canadian line rejected; just as surely will Bermuda's people decline to become a Canadian province—or an American State.—Bermuda Colonist.

Soldiers in Hospital Now Smoke as Guests of Unwitting Wizard of Local Finance

Those unlucky enough to be in possession of large numbers of coppers are urged to find time to interview the Vancouver Island editor of The B.C. Veterans' Weekly. One such unfortunate (or rather fortunate), entering the editorial sanctum Friday, bag in hand, at once received an offer of $2 for the speculative value of his burden. A wise show of indecision fired the desire of the prospective purchaser, who, with the laying on of hands—on the bag—and the tendering of the spotted cash, clinched the bargain in determined fashion. The hundred coppers within hastened the departure of the vendor, who struck his tents and was again on the march, not, however, to disappear in the classic purlieus of Parksville. The humble coinage was a portion of what had just been collected from the milk bottles at the B.C. Electric offices, where receptacles for stray coins for charitable purposes are ever filling.

A total of fourteen hundred units of the humblest of legal tender were gathered thence yesterday and were well on their way towards conversion into smokes for disabled soldiers when the financial wizard of The Veterans' Weekly contributed to the fund with the deal that gave his client a hundred per cent profit on the transaction.

LATE QUEEN'S BONNET IN LOCAL ARCHIVES

One of Queen Victoria's Hats Has Been Presented to Collection in the Provincial Library

A bonnet once worn by the late Queen Victoria is one of the latest additions to the Provincial archives in the Parliament Buildings.

The faded bit of finery occupies a modest brown box with a glass door, and at first glance one hardly recognizes the hat as having any relation to the sartorial requirements of any age whatever. Taken from its inconspicuous case and inspected at closer range it begins to assume a more important appearance. It is an early Victorian "poke" in style, and the straw crown which once covered the Royal head is pleated round with a deep ruching of green silk velvet ribbon. Faded pink roses, nestling in mouldering lace of the filmlest texture, appear beneath the rim, just where the green ribbon garnishing finishes in two long streamers which were evidently worn either loose or tied in a knot under the chin.

PROF. J. C. GWILME DIES AT KINGSTON

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 20.—Prof. J. C. Gwilme, professor of mining in Queen's University from 1903 to 1919, passed away yesterday after a long and painful illness.

The deceased was in is 52nd year, and was educated at St. John's College, Winnipeg, and McGill University, where he graduated in mining engineering.

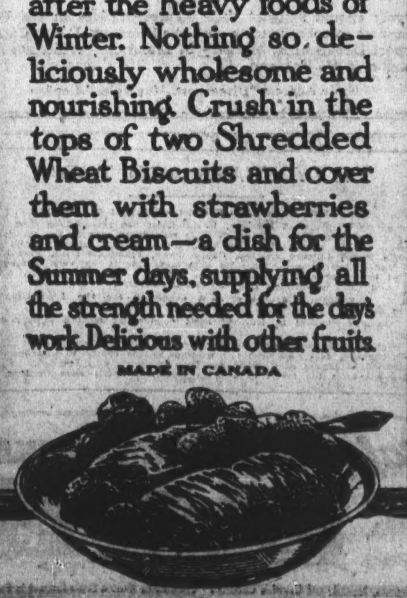

While professor at Queen's he spent several Summers exploring the coal lands of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and later the oil lands of Alberta for the same company. His last work in the field, done for the British Columbia Government in 1919, was the exploration of the Peace River oil fields.

COUNCIL HALTS SAWMILL ACTION

City Will Not Act Further in Smoke Nuisance Controversy Until Mainland Investigation Is Completed

No further action will be taken by the City Council in respect to the Smoke Nuisance By-law until the investigations now proceeding in Vancouver into the disposal of sawmill refuse are completed.

The Council reached this decision at a special meeting yesterday afternoon on a five-to-four vote. A petition circulated by the sawmill interests, asking amendment or repeal of the Smoke Nuisance By-law to permit of the operation of mills without the present restrictions, was tabled, those voting in favor of this move being Aldermen Sangster, Dinsdale, Sargent, Patrick and Cameron. Those who opposed it were the Mayor and Aldermen Todd, Fullerton and Johns. Aldermen Dewar and Andros were not present.

Ald. Sangster moved the resolution that was finally passed. "We should leave the whole matter in abeyance until the investigation has been completed in Vancouver," he said. "Contrary to the assertions of some aldermen, I am not in any way biased in my opinion. The smoke nuisance is serious, I will admit, but we have no right to shut down the lumber industry. There is probably wrong on both sides."

Ald. Sargent seconded the Sangster motion.

Blames the Sawmills

Ald. Johns, persistent enemy of the sawmill people in the smoke and cinder controversy, said that amendment of the existing by-law would be impossible. "If you set out to amend the by-law so as to make the sawmills safe, how are you going to do it?" he asked. "You can't fix in a by-law how much smoke you are going to allow to escape and how much sawdust you are going to allow to enter each house in the Rock Bay district. Only three mills are causing the nuisance, and it is very easy to learn the cause. The whole thing is that the mills choke and overload their burners. They overtax their capacity and are obliged to use forced draught. There is today a big hole in the Cameron burner as a result of this forcing, and yet they come here and ask for an amendment without making any attempt to abate the nuisance. They ask for an amendment to make the by-law worthless. The people have rights that cannot be trampled upon. This petition doesn't stand for anything. I know of the case of a little girl who said she couldn't sign because she was not of age, and yet the man circulating the petition told her to go ahead, that everyone was signing it. We want the mills, but not the sawdust, and the mills are doing nothing to eliminate it," he concluded.

"Oh, yes, they are," interjected Ald. Sangster.

"No, they're not," retorted Ald. Johns. "Take the McCarter boys. I have great respect for them, but they are like everyone else, and they are overworking their burner."

Should Profit From Probe

Ald. Patrick said the City Council would be foolish if it did not take the opportunity of benefiting from the investigation being conducted on the Mainland. "This trouble hasn't sprung up in a moment; it's been with us for years," said the alderman. "Experts are the only ones who can settle it, and we had better take their advice when they are ready to give it."

"No one wants to put the mills out of business, but the fact is that they have created a serious nuisance," declared Ald. Todd.

Ald. Johns suggested that the big sawmills secure some vacant land and dump mill waste there for the use of Victoria's poor as fuel. "It isn't for the Council to dictate that the mills should burn the refuse. Let them give it away and be good people to Victoria's poor," he said.

"Is this another speech, your Worship?" broke in Ald. Sangster.

The Mayor ruled Ald. Johns in order.

"This is his third speech," protested Ald. Sangster.

Ald. Dinsdale said that mill refuse could be converted into valuable fuel for hotels and business blocks if the public was educated to that point.

"Shouldn't the sawdust be mixed with oil?" asked Ald. Patrick.

Unfair to Industries

"It should be mixed with a little something," replied Ald. Dinsdale, who went on to tell of the importance of industries to Victoria. "We everlastingly hounded the chemical works until they were moved from the city," he asserted. "It's time we stopped this business of picking on industries."

Ald. Patrick said the Council's safest policy would be to await a report from the Mainland investigators.

"And in the meantime the people in Rock Bay will be smothered," added Ald. Johns.

"The same conditions have prevailed for a few years, and I guess they can go on for a few more," said Ald. Sangster. "The report will be complete in a few months and then we will know what to do."

"The Council cannot afford to let the sawmills close and drive all these men from employment," said Ald. Patrick, just before the vote was taken.

COLONIZATION PLANS FURTHER ADVANCED

REGINA, Aug. 20.—Definite steps toward securing a Dominion-wide charter for the Western Canadian Colonization Association are being taken at a conference of delegates from the three Prairie Provinces which opened here this morning.

Mayor M. A. Brown, of Medicine Hat, Provincial president of the association, is presiding over the sessions, which will probably occupy two days.

His Honor Dr. Brett, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, is also in attendance. There are six members of the executive councils of Alberta and Manitoba, and five members of the Saskatchewan council present.

SAANICH VOTING ON VITAL ISSUES

Ratepayers of the Municipality Giving Decisions Today on Water and Sewer By-Laws and School Trustee

Between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. today the ratepayers of Saanich shall, at the various polling booths throughout the municipality, cast their votes on matters of vital importance.

There are two by-laws to go before the people. One is for water extensions out as far as Gordon Head and in other parts of the municipality, and the other is for the laying down of a sewer system in the part of Saanich adjacent to the city.

In addition to the by-laws the ratepayers will vote on their choice to fill the vacancy on the Saanich School Board caused by the resignation of Trustee Raven. Mr. D. S. Tait and Mr. H. Clarence Oldfield are the two candidates in the field.

Polling Stations.

Returning Officer Sewell has appointed the following deputies, who will act at the following places:

Ward I., Cedar Hill School—N. C. Bell.

Ward II., Tolmie School — James Owens.

Ward III., Gordon Head Hall — S. Vantreight.

Ward IV. — McKenzie Avenue School—J. J. Button.

Ward V., Royal Oak School—W. D. Kinnaird.

Ward VI., Temperance Hall, East Road—C. Chisholm.

Ward VII., Tillicum School — F. Butterfield.

For the School Board contest the number of voters by wards (apart from Craigflower School District, which votes with Ward VII.), is as follows: Ward I., 1,585; Ward II., 1,275; Ward III., 563; Ward IV., 1,852; Ward V., 518; Ward VI., 440; Ward VII., 1,619.

There being some difference between the qualifications requisite in voting on the by-laws tomorrow in Saanich, the following statement has been issued by Registrar R. R. F. Sewell.

These persons who purchased their qualifying property this year, and who have been placed on the roll therefore, will be only able to vote for the by-laws. They will not be eligible to vote for School Trustee unless they were on the annual voters' list either as a property owner, or householder.

The vote for School Trustee is being taken on the list used at the last annual election, whereas the money by-law qualification is the tax roll.

There being a common report around that a voter will be able to register his will at any polling station, Registrar Sewell announces that this is entirely incorrect. A voter must vote in the ward for which he is registered. The erroneous report seems to have its origin in the recent changes in the Provincial Election Law, which has no effect on municipal election precedure.

NO FOUNDATION FOR YARN, SAYS PREMIER

Story Going Rounds of Prairie Press Telling of Colonization Project for Peace River Has No Basis in Fact

Premier Oliver's recent visit to the Peace River acted as a decided stimulant to the imagination of some bright correspondent whose effusion published in the Prairie press, has it that the Premier's real reason for the visit, to size up that section with the idea of ascertaining the possibilities of giving transportation facilities to the residents of the Peace River block, was something of a far greater magnitude, of Empire-wide importance no less.

The report, Premier Oliver stated yesterday when shown it, is quite without foundation in fact.

"Nothing of the kind has been considered or even contemplated that I know of. And I think I would know something of it were it a fact," said the Premier.

The story as published is as follows:

"There were bigger things behind Hon. John Oliver's trip north than merely a desire to see the country, hold some meetings, and out-talk Bowser. If a report from London, just to hand, is to be taken as a safe hint, the Coast Premier was looking up some facts and figures that will presently enter into a great north-country development scheme with which the Imperial Government will be connected and in which Alberta will have a part.

"According to the London story, a proposal is now before the Empire Development Parliamentary Committee, which is believed to have emanated jointly from the premiers of British Columbia and Alberta. It has to do with a scheme for the development of the Peace River country, whose resources and possibilities are now well known in England.

"For the adequate development of the region a sum running into the millions, even in pounds sterling, is mentioned, and the Imperial Government has been, or will be, asked to guarantee a bond issue covering the amount, becoming partners in the scheme and receiving a substantial share of the bonds.

"Nothing has leaked out from Premier Oliver's public statements during his recent trip as to his plans and opinions in regard to such a project as the London report indicates. The inference is, however, that a general development scheme, including not only railways, but oil fields, mines and general agricultural and industrial enterprises, along with an extensive immigration programme, is in prospect. If the British Government, as suggested, is taking an interest in the project, it is likely to be with a view to securing a new base of supply for oil and coal.

"Presumably the matter has been laid before the Parliamentary Committee in London by the British Columbia Agent-General. The committee, at any rate, is said to be giving it sympathetic consideration."

OPPOSE SHIFTING OF DISABLED SOLDIERS

Patients of Esquimalt Hospital Enlist Aid of G.W.V.A. in Protesting Transfer

T. M. Harnett, Provincial President, and Walter Drinnan, Provincial Secretary-Treasurer, accompanied by A. Tait and A. J. Welsh of the local G.W.V.A. branch, visited Esquimalt Hospital yesterday and addressed the patients in the recreation hut.

The question of greatest importance was that of the proposed transfer of patients from Esquimalt and Craigdarroch hospitals to Vancouver. President Harnett promised to use every means in his power to prevent such action being taken and assured the meeting that the Provincial Command existed for the purpose of protecting the interests of all returned men.

Secretary Drinnan outlined the work of the Association, explained what had been accomplished in connection with pensions for disabled men and dependents, and quoted specific instances where the G.W.V.A. had been successful in securing justice in individual cases.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the visiting officials who answered several questions and collected particulars of complaints that require adjustment.

PREMIER'S TRIP

Hon. Mr. Oliver Will Be Accompanied by Minister of Lands on Two Weeks' Jaunt

While on this northern trip, on which he starts on Monday, accompanied by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, Premier Oliver will make a visit to the Alice Arm section and inspect the railway constructed there under Provincial charter by the Dolly Varden Mines Company to connect tide water with the company's holdings, properties which since have been acquired by the Taylor Engineering Company under the provisions of the legislation passed by the Legislature, and which legislation has been the subject of much debate in the House and was the origin of the libel action brought by Premier Oliver against Mr. R. T. Elliatt, K.C.

While the railway has been operating as an ore carrier not alone for the Dolly Varden properties but also for other mining properties along its route, no certificate of operation has as yet been granted by the Government. The Premier will inspect the line, and it is likely that after he is satisfied that it meets requirements, the certificate will be issued. Then the company will be in a legal position to charge freight rates for hauling supplies, ore and other freight.

En route to the north the Premier and Minister will visit Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert, Anyox, Alice Arm and go on up the Portland Canal to Stewart, where the mining development will be studied. Points on the G.T.P. as far east as Prince George will also be visited. It is intended to hold public meetings at all the above points. The trip will occupy two weeks.

Wants to be Mrs. Pickford

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Charlotte Smith, mother of Mary Pickford, has filed in the Superior Court a petition for permission to change her name to Mrs. Charlotte Pickford.

Many Charming Pleated Effects in New Serge Dresses for Fall

The wonderful richness of bead-work and embroidery and the finished daintiness of their pleated lines stamp these new dresses of navy serge and tricotine with a distinctiveness far above the commonplace. Set-in vestee effects of satin; long or short sleeves; overskirts and long tie girdles are other notable style features. These new dresses are priced from

Winnipeg Lady Drowned

KENORA, Ont., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Perry, wife of Rev. Dr. E. G. Perry, of Winnipeg, was drowned in the Lake of the Woods last night as the result of a tragedy caused by the backfiring of an engine in a launch, in which a party of sixteen were returning to their camp from a trip on the lake. The fire spread quickly and all had to jump in the lake. Fortunately they were good swimmers, or many others would have lost their lives. The body was not recovered till about 10 o'clock.

No special and painstaking effort of hands or brain that goes into the building of something superior is ever wasted.

City and District in Brief

Colwood G.W.V.A.—The Great War Veterans' Association, Langford branch, will hold a dance at Colwood on Tuesday evening next.

Holding Flannel Dance — The Royal Victoria Yacht Club is holding a flannel dance on Thursday evening next at the club in aid of the Boys' Naval Brigade.

Cemetery Question—Mayor Porter yesterday appointed Ald. E. B. Andros to serve as a committee of one in the negotiations for the establishment of a municipal cemetery in the vicinity of Victoria.

Johnson Street Bridge—The City Council yesterday referred to the City Engineer a resolution passed by the United Veterans of Canada urging employment of local labor in the building of the Johnson Street bridge.

Assumes New Duties—Mr. H. W. Hart, recently appointed head of the Provincial Bureau of Information, takes over his new duties on Monday next. His office will be in the premises formerly occupied by the Workmen's Compensation Board in the rear of the Parliament Buildings.

An Inadvertent Omission. — Mr. Robert Cassidy, K.C., of Vancouver, yesterday called attention to the fact that his name had been omitted from the published list of guests attending the garden party at Government House on Thursday afternoon. The omission was quite unintentional.

Scouts' Garden Fete.—The garden fete arranged today by the James Bay Scout Troop will take place today, from 3 to 6 p.m., in the grounds of the residence of Mrs. Jones-Evans, Douglas and Michigan Streets. All interested in the Boy Scouts and Wolf Clubs are invited to be present.

More Houses Wanted—Real estate men are sighing for the conversion of the many vacant lots of the city into the sites of vacant houses. It is becoming extremely difficult to find residences to rent or to buy at figures to suit purchasers. The crowded condition of the many apartment houses is also noted.

Theft in Market Building—Secretary W. Millar Higg, of the Victoria and District Rabbit Breeders' Association, yesterday urged the City Council to conduct a thorough investigation into the theft of some 1,000 feet of lumber and some new wire netting from the Market Building, where the association recently held a rabbit show.

At St. John's Tomorrow.—Rev. W. H. Vance, who has recently been appointed principal of the Anglican Theological College of British Columbia, is a visitor in the city and will preach at St. John's Church, Quadra Street, on Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, the rector of St. John's, will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock.

Want Special Ship—Efforts are still being made by the local Great War Veterans to charter a vessel from the C. P. R. on the occasion of the provincial sports of the association at Vancouver on September 4. To date little success has been reported, but negotiations are still under way. It is expected that many hundreds will make the trip if a ship is available.

G.W.V.A. Smoker.—The usual Saturday night smoker will take place at the G.W.V.A. rooms tonight at 8 o'clock. Several well known singers are billed to appear, and there will be a boxing match with some real kick to it. The G.W.V.A. orchestra, under the able leadership of Comrade D. Sheret, will be in attendance. The G.W.V.A. will endeavor to make these Saturday night concerts thoroughly enjoyable, and every week will see a complete change of programme. All ex-service men are welcome.

Mr. Found Returns East—Mr. W. A. Found, Deputy Minister of Fisheries for the Dominion, left Vancouver yesterday for Ottawa. Mr. Found has been in the West for the past month, becoming better acquainted with conditions affecting the industry here. He has been to points along the coast, including Rivers Inlet, Smith's Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands, Alert Bay and Knights Inlet. Mr. Found was expected to visit Victoria before proceeding East.

Heavy Fine for Having Liquor—Pleading guilty in the City Police Court yesterday to the charge of having liquor in an unlawful place, Robert Russell, proprietor of the Occidental Hotel, was fined $200 by magistrate Jay. Sergeant Boulton testified to finding whisky on the premises on the occasion of a recent police visit to the hotel. The heaviness of the fine was a matter beyond the discretion of the court, the offence being the second of a like nature recorded against the accused and $200 being the minimum fine that may be imposed.

Attend Convention—Mr. Christian Siverts, President of the Amalgamated Postal Workers of Canada, accompanied by Messrs. A. Silsby and F. Dawson, representatives of the Local Letter Carriers' Association, left yesterday to attend the annual convention of the organization at Edmonton. Many important questions will be dealt with at the convention, among them being those affecting salaries and bonuses, co-operation with other branches of the Federal Civil Service and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the workers and the betterment of their positions.

Many Given Work—About thirty men were successful in their applications for work at the Trail Smelter yesterday. Mr. Dockerall, a representative of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, interviewed job seekers at the Government Labor Bureau yesterday and will also be there up till noon today for the same purpose. Quite a number of those men accepted yesterday are married men and will move their families to Trail where there is ample housing accommodation. Carpenters and laborers are desired.

Second-Hand Dealers in Court—Mrs. F. W. Carter and E. Hartley were each fined $10 in the City Police Court yesterday on a conviction of failing to make a proper report to the police of their day's business as second-hand dealers. Detective Sergeant Carlow told the court that the charge had been laid following the discovery of the police that a pair of trousers and a razor had been respectively bought by the accused from Walter Fossett, the drug addict who was recently sentenced to a term imprisonment for escaping from the city jail and for the theft of the articles above mentioned. Defendants pleaded that they had returned the report on the day following the sale.

Amend Parking By-Law—Although informed that the automobile section of the Board of Trade was favorable to the by-law as it stood, the City Council yesterday proceeded to modify some of its clauses with a view to lessening the restrictions against parking. Under the terms of the amendment passed yesterday, on motion of Ald. Sargent, cars will be allowed to be parked on Yates Street, between Broad and Douglas Streets, and on Fort Street, between Douglas and Blanshard Streets. Both these sections were previously included in the non-parking zone, which, however, was extended yesterday to include Government Street from Fort Street to Courtney Street.

Trade Commissioner in City—Mr. George E. Shortt, Junior Trade Commissioner for Canada, is in Victoria, and will remain here for several days. Mr. Shortt represents the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa, and his special mission is to get acquainted with manufacturers and ascertain the quality and variety of their products from the point of view of adaptability for export. He has already had interviews with many of the business men of the city and will be found at the Empress Hotel until Monday. The information he is gathering will be communicated to commercial agents of Canada in all countries for their guidance in pushing foreign trade. He expects ultimately to be sent to Valparaiso as Canadian commercial agent.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Alma Russell, of the Provincial Library staff, left last night on the Princess Maquinna for a trip up the West Coast of the Island.

Mrs. Newman, of 1141 Fort Street, announces the engagement of her daughter Edythe to Mr. George Gillespie, of Drumheller, Alberta, son of Mrs. John Gillespie, of Vancouver, B.C., the wedding to take place on Wednesday, August 25, at 7:30 p.m., at Metropolitan Church.

Among the guests at the Empress Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. O. Netzer, Crofton, B.C.

Mr. W. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, the well-known local flying officer, leaves the city on Monday to take up a position with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at Trail. He has resigned from the secretaryship of the local branch of the Aerial League of Canada with which he has been identified since its commencement here.

The many friends of Miss Florence ("Dodie") Leighton, of Vancouver, will be interested to hear that her marriage to Commander Glassford has been arranged to take place next week in that city.

Miss Peggy McBride and Miss "Tommy" Monteith are leaving town today and are spending a few days with Mrs. Monteith at Cowichan Lake.

Mrs. D'Oyley Rochfort, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Davis, of Nanaimo, was joined last week by Mr. D'Oyley Rochfort.

Sir Arthur and Lady Currie have returned to Montreal after a short visit to Strathroy, Ontario.

Mrs. Ernest Todd was the hostess of a most delightful children's party last Wednesday afternoon at her beautiful home on Island Road, Oak Bay. The many little friends of Marjorie and Jack Todd found the bright summer weather and lovely big gardens an added enjoyment to the outdoor games that took place during the afternoon. Some of those present were: Mrs. R. P. Butchart, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. C. F. Todd, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Blackwood, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. William C. Todd, with Terry and Terese Todd; Mrs. Ross, with Ian Ross; Mrs. Heisterman, with John and Margaret Heisterman; Mrs. T. B. Gregory, with George Frederick Gregory; Mrs. Cockburn, with Peter Cockburn; Mrs. R. H. Pooley, with Daphne Pooley; Mrs. C. J. Prior, with her little daughter Marcia; Mrs. Norman Payne, with Noreen, and Mrs. C. H. C. Payne and Teddy, Mrs. Harold Eberts and Teddy, Mrs. Llewellyn-Jones and Peggy, Mrs. F. B. Edwards, with Rosemary and Joan. Those who helped the children with refreshments were Miss Tina Mowbray, Miss Peggy and Sheila McBride, Miss Totie Day and Miss Leslie Jones.

The many friends of Miss McElhenny will be pleased to hear that she is staying in Victoria, the guest of Miss Jean Tolmie. Miss McElhenny has come over from Portland, Ore., to attend Miss Tolmie's wedding, which will take place in the early part of September.

Miss Kitty Fraser, Rockland Ave., was the hostess of a most delightful shower yesterday, given in compliment to Miss Jean Tolmie, whose marriage will shortly take place. The "shower" was for miscellaneous gifts, and a large black enamel box was placed in the centre of the table, and in this had been placed all those dainty and fascinating packets which appeal to the feminine eye. Huge satin ribbon bows held the box at either end, and the decorations of the table and room had been carried out most artistically with pink sweet peas. There were twelve guests invited: Mrs. Torquil Burns, Mrs. Hughes, of Vancouver; Miss Shatford, of Vancouver; Miss Margaret Sayward, Miss McElhenny, of Portland; Miss Ethel Helmcken, Miss Norma Macdonald, Miss Margaret Scott, Miss Day, Miss Carol Tolmie and Miss Ruth Cochrane.

Miss Agnes Finlayson, Coal Harbor Road, is visiting in Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sallaway, of Riverside, Cal., are visiting in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Burdick have returned to Vancouver after a delightful motor trip on the Island.

Up-Island visitors to the city include Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Peat, Duncan; Mrs. J. J. Topham, Koksilah; Mrs. H. J. Harris, Cobble Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. A. Norrie, Cowichan Station, all being guests at the Strathcona Hotel.

Mr. C. E. S. Neill, Pender Harbor, is registered at the James Bay Hotel.

A number of Los Angeles people are staying at the Dominion Hotel, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Blakeley and son, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hensly and daughter, Mr. Vincent Jones and Mr. H. D. Goodwin.

Mr. Fred Wooley, Mrs. J. R. Wake and Miss Barbara Wake, Calgary, are guests at the Douglas Hotel.

Mrs. F. Plasen and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rowland, Swift Current; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Godfrey and family, Indian Head, Sask.; Mr. E. Dobnson, Hongkong, China, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hart and sons, Port Gamble, Wash., are staying at the Westholme Hotel.

Mr. C. G. McClure, Regina; Mr. A. C. Stewart, M.D., and Mrs. McClure, San Diego, Cal., are registered at the St. James Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Neill and family, Medicine Hat, are guests at the Douglas Hotel.

Mr. A. Belbech, Prince George, is at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nightingale, San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wright, Seattle, are staying at the Douglas Hotel.

Mr. S. J. Chiverall, Metchosin; Mr. John Mitchell, Parker Island; Mr. E. Anderson, Wardner, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. R. Chisholm, Revelstoke, are guests at the Strathcona Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rushworth, Nanaimo, are guests at the Dominion Hotel.

Cable Address "Disposport, Mungirge," London

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of August 21, 1870.)

Missionary's Episcopal Tour—Rev. R. Jamieson has returned to New Westminster by canoe from Yale, after a month's missionary tour in the interior of the Mainland. In the course of a five hundred and twenty miles' ride he preached at Cook's Ferry, Lillooet, Clinton, Cache Creek, Pranquille Mills, Fort Kamloops, Nicola Valley, Lytton and Yale. He expresses himself as very agreeably surprised at the number of settlers in the various districts through which he passed, and their prosperous and contented condition.

Hon. G. A. Walkem is spoken of as a candidate for the Legislative Council from Cariboo.

The Hastings Sawmill at Burrard Inlet commenced cutting lumber on Tuesday last.

The War—The French Governmental representa previous reverses of the army so fully checked, and says that the attempt of the enemy to interfere with the concentration of troops at Chalons has been completely frustrated. Everything now depends upon the result of General Faidherb's battle near Chalons.

G. U. Diseases—Dr. T. Miller.

Pathology—Dr. W. P. Walker.

Radiology—Dr. L. K. Poyntz.

Anaesthetics—Dr. A. B. Hudson.

Dental Surgery—Dr. R. Ford Verrinder.

Medical Representatives

At their last regular meeting also the Victoria Medical Society appointed Dr. Paul Higgins, Dr. Walter Bapty and Dr. Edward Hazel as its representatives on the Hospital Board.

Mr. R. S. Day, chairman of the board, at the meeting last night formally welcomed Mr. Charles Williams, the new member from Oak Bay Municipality, and Dr. McCallum, the new member of the board from Esquimalt. The chairman also thanked the directors for re-electing him to the position of the board which he has occupied for the past six years.

WANT ISOLATION HOSPITAL MANAGED

City Offers the Control of the Institution to the Jubilee Hospital Board of Directors

The Jubilee Hospital may take over the management of the City Isolation Hospital.

At the Hospital Board meeting last night a letter from the City Council asking under what terms and conditions the hospital would be willing to take over the control of the Isolation Hospital was read. The house committee was favorably disposed to the suggestion, provided suitable financial arrangements could be offered by the city, and Messrs. R. S. Day, A. E. Forman, Parfitt, Boulden and Alec. Stewart were appointed a committee from the hospital to interview the City Council on the matter.

STORM OF PROTEST GATHERING STRENGTH

Comrades of Great War Line Up Against Transfer of Patients of Military Hospitals to Vancouver

Outspoken and unqualified condemnation of the proposed transfer of S. C. R. patients from local to Mainland hospitals was the dominating feature of last night's meeting of the Comrades of the Great War. Governmental promises of life-long treatment of disabilities were recalled and emphasis laid on the right of broken soldiers to expect such attention as near their homes as humanly possible, the meeting ridiculing the false economy that would necessitate frequent trips to the Mainland. Copies of the resolution condemning the projected step are being sent to the Premier at Ottawa, Sir James Lougheed, under whose jurisdiction the S. C. R. comes; the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Mr. J. C. McIntosh, M.P., and the Victoria Board of Trade.

Dissatisfaction was also expressed with the recent removal of the Victoria Branch of the Board of Pension Commissioners to Vancouver. Considerable inconvenience and financial loss is being caused to pensioners who report to this city for examination, and who, through no fault of their own, are unable to report on the set date. The Board of Pension Commissioners is accordingly being requested to make such arrangements as will ensure that adequate facilities will be provided for examination of pensioners on Vancouver Island.

The report was received of the negotiations that have been taking place with the Attorney-General in connection with the faulty working of the Workmen's Compensation Act in local hospitals. While little has as yet been accomplished, the Hon. Mr. Farris has promised to do all within his power to facilitate the smoother administration of the act.

The healthy condition of the club was evidenced by the seven new applications for membership and the highly favorable financial report. The sinking fund has now mounted to $5,600, all accounts are of a very pleasing nature and the dining-room, after meeting all overhead charges, shows the expected profit.

The meeting closed with the selection of Comrade J. G. Bloom as chairman of the sports committee, the former incumbent having left the city.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—A 20 per cent increase in Eastbound freight rates, effective Sept. 1, was announced here today by the Inter-Coastal Conference, representing seven of the principal steamship lines operating between Pacific and Atlantic ports. Some exemptions were noted, principally barley, and it was announced that the new tariffs would not apply to Gulf ports.

"UNCANNY FEELING" HAUNTS TRAVELERS

Victoria West Brotherhood Complains Against Darkness on Former Songhees Reserve at Night

Travelers by night across the former Songhees Reserve experience "a most uncanny feeling," Secretary W. Monteith, of the Victoria West Brotherhood, informed the City Council yesterday afternoon. It is all because of the intense darkness, and Mr. Monteith claims that it is the Council's duty to have some lights installed.

"The road gives travelers, especially women, a most uncanny feeling when traversed after dark, and the cut under the railroad bridge is particularly gloomy," stated Mr. Monteith, who added that Mr. Johnson, who lives at 218 Wilson Street, would be a particularly good man to consult when the matter of light location is considered.

The matter was referred to the Light Committee.

The Victoria West Brotherhood informed the Council of its opposition to the alienation of any part of the Elk Lake watershed, its objection to the overhead walk approaching the inner harbor bridge, and its hope that something might be done to improve the condition of Fullerton Avenue. The matters were referred to City Engineer F. M. Preston for report.

CITY HALL WATCHES SAANICH ELECTION

Result of School Trustee Vote Will Have Influence on Aldermanic Activities—"Frill" Cost Low in City

If the Saanich ratepayers today vote against the advocate of domestic science and manual training in the public school curricula, the result will be taken as a signal for anti-"frill" aldermen to get in their work prior to a drive against similar appropriations by the Victoria School Board next year.

That there is a definite sentiment on the part of at least one influential alderman against domestic science and manual training being taught in the schools was learned yesterday. "If the supporter of these courses is defeated in Saanich, it will be so much more power to the people in Victoria, who think this kind of training is a joke," said the alderman, who is also of the opinion that the Victoria School Board should be abolished altogether and its powers transferred to the City Council.

School officials point out, however, that the actual cost of domestic science and manual training in Victoria is infinitesimal when compared to other school costs. Only about 800 students out of a total of 5,000 take the courses, and the per capita cost to these students is only about $6 a year, or approximately one-sixth of the total cost of their education. When considered as part of the per capita charge on all students in the city, the "frill" expenditure amounts to practically nothing at all. Due to the economical methods of administration, maintenance of these courses amounts to considerably less than in Vancouver.

CITY AND ROTARIANS BACK S.C.R. PROTEST

Urge Dominion Government to Cancel Rumored Proposal of Transferring Patients to the Mainland

The City Council and the Rotary Club yesterday put their weight behind the protest to Ottawa against the proposed removal of military hospital patients from Victoria and Esquimalt to the mainland.

"I think that the Council should put itself on record against the carrying out of this proposal," the Mayor wrote to the Council. "In my opinion, if for no other reason, climatic conditions justify the keeping of these patients in Victoria."

The Council recommended that a wire of protest be dispatched at once to Ottawa.

The Rotary Club sent the following wire to Premier Arthur Meighen: "Reported on good authority that it is proposed to close S.C.R. hospitals in Victoria and remove patients to Vancouver. Rotary Club of Victoria records its emphatic protest on three grounds: First, climate of Victoria is more suitable. Second, humidity forbids change, many patients having relatives and other ties in Victoria. Third, if economy is object, Vancouver patients could be brought to Victoria, where Government owns hospitals. Hope Government will cancel proposed change."

A similar wire was sent to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

LITTLE GIRL DROWNS IN FRASER RIVER

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 20.—Word reached this city yesterday afternoon of the drowning at South Westminster of Ruth Edwardsen, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwardsen, living in a schoolhouse on the banks of the Fraser.

The little girl went to the riverside to wash out some dolls' clothes. Shortly afterwards her mother saw the doll's garments floating in the river down stream, and as there was no sign of little Ruth, an alarm was at once raised and the body of the child was recovered, but life was extinct.

HAMILON, Ont., Aug. 20.—That no mercy will be shown defaulters under the income tax was further demonstrated here yesterday, when following the recent fine of $2,100 imposed on a well known citizen, Dr. William A. Danderbrugh, was assessed $1,500 for making incorrect returns.

GERALD BUTLER MEETS DEATH IN ELK LAKE

While Bathing With Companions on Thursday Night, Keating Lad Sinks—Body Recovered After Search

While bathing in Elk Lake on Thursday evening, Gerald Joseph Thomas Butler, seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Butler, Keating, was drowned. With three companions, Anderson, Tubman and Hafner, young Butler was swimming from a raft on the shore alongside the old right-of-way of the V. & S. Railway on the west side of the lake. The three companions had jumped into the water, which at that point rapidly deepened. They knew that Butler was unable to swim, and when Anderson saw that he had followed them he went after him in an effort to get hold of him. Butler at that moment showed he was in difficulties, and young Anderson swam hard to relieve him. He succeeded in getting hold of the other lad by the bathing suit, but his grasp failed, and Butler sank.

The three companions promptly attempted to secure the body by diving, but could not do so. They summoned aid, and some time later Chief Brogan, of the Saanich Municipal Police force, accompanied by Constable Rankin, arrived. Nearby residents also assisted. Dragging irons were secured and efforts to recover the body were kept up until darkness forced a cessation in the work. At 6 a.m. yesterday morning the dragging operations were resumed, and the body was finally secured by Constable Rankin and a Mr. Young. The case was reported to Coroner Hart, who has ordered an inquest for 10 o'clock this morning.

Young Butler was born at Keating and was employed in his father's store at that point, where the family is well known and highly respected. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden bereavement. The deceased leaves his parents and five brothers and three sisters. The body is lying at the B.C. Funeral Company's undertaking rooms. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the family residence, Keating, to the Catholic Church at Hagans, where services will be held. Interment will be made in the adjoining cemetery.

OBITUARY NOTICES

HARTLEY—The death occurred at an early hour yesterday morning after a long illness, of Mrs. Annie Hartley at the family residence, 1394 Summit Avenue. The late Mrs. Hartley was a native of Manchester, England, and is survived by two sons, Albert and Thomas Spencer, and one daughter, Mrs. W. Berry, all of Victoria. The remains are reposing at the Thomson Funeral Home, from where the funeral will take place, today at 3 o'clock. Rev. William Stevenson will officiate.

CARTER.—The remains of the late Miss Dean Agnes Carter were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The service was held at 3:30 o'clock in the B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick officiating. There was a large attendance of friends present and a beautiful floral offering covered the casket and hearse. They hymn "There is a Happy Land," was sung. The pallbearers were Messrs. A. M. Johnson, A. V. Pineo, R. J. Robertson and T. F. Curran.

LIVINGSTON.—The death occurred Thursday night, at Jubilee Hospital, of Mr. A. Livingston, a returned soldier. He was a native of Perth, Scotland. The funeral arrangements, which are in the hands of the S.C.R., will be announced later. The remains are now reposing at the B.C. Funeral Chapel.

McGUIRE.—The death occurred yesterday of Martin McGuire, of Kerr Avenue, Saanich, at the age of 79 years. The deceased was a native of Kentucky, U.S.A., and came to this city about fifteen years ago. He was a ship's rigger by trade and well known at Esquimalt, where he lived and worked for many years. The late Mr. McGuire was single. The remains are reposing at the B.C. Funeral Chapel and due notice of the funeral will be given.

EVENNER.—The remains of the late Mrs. Marie Caroline Evenner will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery on Tuesday. The funeral will leave the family residence, 251 Government Street, at 8:45 a.m., and will proceed to the Catholic Cathedral, where mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock.

ROARKE.—The remains of baby Caroline Roarke will be laid to rest this afternoon in Ross Bay Cemetery. The funeral will leave the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2:20 o'clock, proceeding to St. Andrew's Catholic Cathedral, where service will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

ALEXANDER.—The funeral of the late Brian Bevan Alexander took place yesterday afternoon from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where service was conducted by Rev. F. H. Fatt a few minutes later. Many friends attended and a large floral offering was sent. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. C. B. Mess, H. Elford, B. Huchison and C. Holmes.

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN

Johnny Hanley Celebrates Release From Cells by Attempting to Put Bluecoat on Casualty List

Released on Thursday after serving a two months' term in the cells, irrepressible Johnny Hanley is again in the toils and in the police court this morning he will face two charges, one of being drunk on the street; the other and more serious, of assaulting a police officer. Hanley, whose penchant for getting into trouble, and to whom when under the influence, a police officer constitues the only blot on an otherwise satisfactory landscape, is becoming a more and more frequent visitor to court. He celebrated his release from durance vile by imbibing freely of what, in these days of Prohibition, goes by the courtesy title of whisky. He was creating a disturbance at the corner of Johnson and Government Streets last night at 7:30 o'clock, and when cautioned by Constable Jones to make himself scarce, he resented the interruption and advice. He made for the blue-coat and in a rough-and-tumble which ensued, he kicked the officer about the shins and otherwise showed contempt for the law. It required some hard work to get the obstreperous Hanley behind the bars.

The Athenian day began at sunset.

BRINDLED BULLDOG LEGALLY REPRIEVED

Playmate of Davie Street Children Is Not Proved to Be Vicious — Charge Against Owner Is Dismissed

The brindled bull terrier of Davie Street is not to die by the hand of the official dog executioner—that is, if he is a good dog in the future and restrains his playful habit of an overboisterous welcome of passing pedestrians—and there is much joy in the youthful breasts of the human playmates of the brindled bull terrier of Davie Street. The decree of reprieve is implicit in the decision of Magistrate Jay, in the City Police Court yesterday, when he dismissed the charge against David Sargent of keeping a vicious dog.

The case came up on remand from last Wednesday's session of the court, when the magistrate adjourned the case in order that more evidence might be presented. The charge was brought under a Provincial statute, a conviction under which would have necessitated a court order for the destruction of the dog. The Magistrate was moved to grant a further hearing of the case because of his reluctance, as he said, to order the destruction of a dog unless it was clearly proven that the animal was savage and a dangerous nuisance to the neighborhood. Another factor influencing His Honor was the statement of the defence last Wednesday that the dog was kept in memory of defendant's son, to whom it formerly belonged, and who was killed in action at the front.

A Judge of Dogs

John S. Hickford, the complainant, who testified last Wednesday that the dog had rushed out savagely upon him and tried to bite him as he was walking along Davie Street, was recalled to the witness' stand by the prosecution yesterday. Witness said that he was experienced in dogs and their ways, having been a judge at local dog shows for many years. Witness said that he gave this testimony in consequence of a suggestion by the defence that complainant had been unduly alarmed at what the owner alleged to be merely a harmless and playful manifestation of the high spirits natural to the race of brindled bull terriers.

A gentle, gray-haired old lady, who earnestly besought City Prosecutor Harrison to see that her name was kept out of the newspapers, testified that she had been frightened three times by the brindled bulldog. On one occasion the lady had not been able to pass, and she had had to stand quite still. The brindled bulldog had not harmed her, she said, but she had been frightened by the alarming aspect of the creature.

Another witness, a city boulevard laborer, testified that he had seen the dog rush out upon another pedestrian on the same day as that on which the alleged offence had occurred. Defendant said that he had brought three neighbors of his, with whose children the brindled bulldog was accustomed to play, to testify to the good nature and harmlessness of the terrier.

Magistrate Jay said that it was not necessary for the defence to be heard further. He was not satisfied that the prosecution had shown sufficient cause to warrant an order for the destruction of the dog. However, he would advise the defendant to keep the dog from the streets. It would be impossible for him to ignore satisfactory evidence of the keeping of a vicious dog. Failing such evidence in this case he would dismiss the charge.

FOUR MONTHS' LEAVE FOR RADIOLOGIST

Dr. L. U. Poyntz Will Take Post-Graduate Work During Extended Leave Granted Him by Board

Dr. L. U. Poyntz, radiologist at the Jubilee Hospital, has been granted four months' leave of absence in order that he may enjoy a combined holiday and study tour.

His request formed the subject of a communication read at the meeting of the Hospital Board last evening, and the Board granted permission without comment further than that Dr. Paul Higgins would take over the work of the X-ray department in Dr. Poyntz' absence. Dr. Poyntz intends leaving next month, and will attend the convention of the American Roentgen Society at Rochester, Minnesota, first, later proceeding to the Convention of the American College of Surgeons at Montreal. He also plans to proceed to England, Scotland, France and Austria, in order to get information relevant to his special work, such information, as he stated in his letter, not being available by other means owing to the dearth of written matter on the subject during the whole period of the war.

Dr. Poyntz has done valuable work as the head of the X-ray department at the Jubilee Hospital, bringing it from obscurity to a state of proficiency which has made it notable among institutions of the kind on the North American Continent. Two X-ray conventions, which brought some of the leading radiologists of the Western Hemisphere to Victoria, have been held at Jubilee Hospital since the installation of the splendid equipment now in charge of Dr. Poyntz.

Is Back Home From Overseas

MISS KATHLEEN LITTLE,

One of the most popular and capable of the many Victoria girls who went overseas during the war to serve in the ranks of the nursing sisters. Miss Little graduated from the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital in 1913, and had had considerable experience as a hospital nurse and in connection with private cases before the war broke out. She volunteered at once for duty overseas, and was one of the first to go from Victoria, leaving here in October, 1914. She was sent almost direct to France, and was there for four years, part of the time at No. 2 Canadian Hospital, but chiefly "up the line." She left France in 1918, and was transferred to the British Army, being at No. 1 War Hospital, Reading, for orthopaedic work. She has only just lately been demobilized, and came direct back to Victoria, her intention being ultimately to go to New Zealand to visit a sister there.

Miss Little was decorated with the Royal Red Cross, one of the highest awards granted to nurses, while she was at the big clearing station at Poperinge. . . . She is staying at Alexandra House, where she lived up to the time she went overseas. Two brothers are living in Saanich.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS BANE OF WORKMEN

"Feared More Than Wrath of God"—Causes of Depression in Trade Stated by Authority

Unemployment is the bane of our industrial system. It was Carlyle who said that "Workmen fear unemployment more than they fear the wrath of God." The Sage of Chelsea, being the son of a working stonemason, was not without actual experience of the miseries and privations which are inflicted upon the household as the result of the bread-winner being thrown out of work. It is only those who have gone through this awful and depressing experience that can fully appreciate the desolation that enters into the soul of the poor "o'er-labored wight," as he trudges from workshop to workshop seeking and begging for leave to toil. It is the damnable fear of being thrown out of employment that makes the workers adverse to the introduction of any change in the methods of manufacture that is calculated to expedite output, and not from any real desire to hinder, in any way, increased production whereby the material essentials of life may be produced in abundance, to enhance the comfort of all. Workmen are opposed, and they are not without justification for their opposition, to increasing production to swell the already swollen profits of the profiteers, and are striving to establish a more exalted industrial objective than the production of goods for profit. They hold that the final object of industry should be to get a good method of distribution and a great quantity of consumption, or, as Ruskin puts it, "to use everything and to use it nobly, whether it be substance, service, or service perfecting substance."

Broadly speaking, under normal conditions, national and international depression in trade may be said to be due more to under-consumption, and not, as ofttimes stated, over-production. In other words, the main cause of unemployment may be tersely stated thus: Under existing conditions of wealth distribution, production outstrips consumption so that in the course of time there is a glut of commodities on the market which cannot be immediately disposed of at a profit to their possessors, with the inevitable result that production slows down and workmen are thrown out of employment, notwithstanding the fact that millions of workers and their families are in dire need of the commodities which the labor of the workers has produced. If the consuming powers of the workers were increased, i.e., by higher earnings, thereby bringing consumption on a level with production, an equilibrium would be effected and employment stabilized.—J. T. Brownlie in Engineering.

NARROWLY ESCAPE FROM FOREST FIRE

KAMLOOPS, Aug. 20.—Passengers on the Canadian National Railway are still being transferred across two streams where bridges were burned in the great forest fires which occurred over a large territory north of Kamloops on Monday night and Tuesday.

Latest reports received from the district show that thirty ranchers or homesteaders were absolutely burned out, and many people had a very narrow escape for their lives. At one time sixty fire-fighters were in an exceedingly precarious position. They were trapped by flames and successfully sought refuge in the Thompson River.

Frank Smith's was the only death, and there is no doubt that if he had remained with the other homesteaders his life, too, would have been saved. His body, lying face downward, has since been found in his garden.

Henry and John Anderson, brothers, escaped only by a miracle. More than forty employees of the Fennell mill, which was burned, had to cover four miles of burning territory, threatened every moment with the flames. The most seriously injured in Kamloops Hospital are Dave Curry and Fred Soderdahl. Others still under treatment, but not dangerously burned, are Edward Green, Patrick Noonan, Arthur Barker, E. Hardy and Thomas Long.

Today, if your name is on the Municipality of Saanich voters' list, you will be asked by the Councillors to endorse their action in passing a by-law to supply the Gordon Head District with water.

Your co-operation in this respect is earnestly asked, and your support will earn you the right of reciprocal treatment should your district at any future time desire the help of Gordon Head for any worthy improvement.

The opportunity of affording work for your own people this Fall and Winter must be given serious thought, and the lasting benefit to the worker and business man, through the assured influx of many of the best class of citizens, is shown by the fact that several outside persons are waiting the passing of the by-law to spend considerable sums in erecting residences and improving their holdings.

Intelligent and Honest Answers to Your Questions

Why Is This Being Voted On?
Because a big majority of Gordon Head residents petitioned for it.

Why Did They Petition for It?
Because it will double their crops and double the value of their property.

Why Are the Non-Property-Owners of the District Affected Asked to Vote?
Because the Council is not empowered to pledge the credit of the Municipality without the consent of the electorate.

How Will Gordon Head Pay Its Debt?
By taxation on a frontage basis so assessed that principal and interest will be fully paid up in thirty years.

What if the Taxes Fall in Arrears?
The Council must follow the usual methods of collecting arrears of taxes, and if not paid, a sale of the delinquent property will secure the amount unpaid.

What if the Property Does Not Bring the Amount of the Taxes When Sold?
The property affected is of sufficient value to bring many times the amount of the whole debt.

INDUSTRIAL AND SOCIAL PROBLEMS OF THE DAY

What Must Be Done to Meet the Propaganda of Agitators in the Ranks of Labor in America

With maximum production recognized as the only means of relief to be afforded to the consuming world now wrestling with its greatest industrial and social problem, the great question confronting each and every employer of labor today is, how can the necessary increase in production be brought about? The answer to the problem lies in getting workers to understand the true economic situation as it faces us today. The only way in which this necessary education can be brought about, is through sincere, honest and united effort on the part of all employers. It must be done by employers and no one employer should shirk his responsibility. Today, despite what educational work is being done by deep-thinking, far-seeing, progressive employers, we see the radical teacher and the labor walking delegate continuing in their efforts and meeting with considerable success. There is no use saying that labor unrest and discontent is not spreading. There is a reason for this, and the real reason is found, not so much in the increased agitation on the part of radical enemies of our industrial system, as it is seen in the indifferent attitude of a number of employers of labor who persist in refusing, to admit the seriousness of the situation, and who heedlessly, or blindly, as you may put it, refuse to see any menace to the present social and industrial situation. Here and there in many plants, there are radical agitators causing labor unrest and discontent. As a result there are numbers of workers demanding extreme increases and working conditions and there is hardly a day passes but in some industry or trade labor agreements or working conditions that have been agreed upon, are being cast aside as mere scraps of paper. If the average worker is left in ignorance of true economic conditions, if he is not given an opportunity to study the actual conditions existing in the business in which he is employed and has not a knowledge of the true industrial situation under which he works and lives, he is, under the circumstances, turned over to the tender mercies of the radicals who are waiting to pour into him the false teachings designed to cripple trade and industry in our Province. Labor unrest will under these conditions continue to increase and production will continue to fall off if the educational work is to be postponed by employers. It is a fact that any worker who gets a true light on conditions becomes a contented employee and a better worker and if we are to have anything like full production we must have faithful workers to accomplish it. The discontented or the restless worker, educated by the propaganda handed him by radical leaders, does things at a loss at every turn while he is an employee. He helps to decrease the labor turnover, he helps to increase accidents, he helps to waste time, and is the cause of much delayed production. He is the means of curtailing efficiency in the establishment, and in off hours preaches nothing but discontent—all of which has a serious effect on output. He is finally discharged as a disgruntled worker, and goes from place to place, achieving no better result than to give aid to the radical who makes capital of every discharged man. Maximum production is the crying need today, and in the face of this need, in order to meet the situation, the employer and employee should be working systematically together for the common good of the community, in the struggle to lower the present high cost of living. This article is written, not in an antagonistic spirit, but with the idea of reviewing the situation in a calm, conservative manner, in which it is hoped that further interest on the part of employees and employers will be arrived at and to bring home to each, the duty to co-operate and through mutual understanding and individual plant effort push the work of bringing about better conditions and increased production here. The employer and the worker are natural friends and are not natural enemies. The chances of success are equal between the worker and the boss, and are equally divided, and until both employer and employee understand that the radical is the natural enemy of both and of the public, the present situation and the high cost of living problems cannot be effectively met.

HON. MACKENZIE KING ON HISTORIC GROUND

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—Today, on his way to Milton, Ont., where he speaks tonight, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, paid a visit to scenes made historic by the flight of his distinguished grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, during the rebellion of 1837.

It was at the 16-Mile Creek, near the Hamilton-Toronto highway, where Mackenzie made his sensational flight after the unsuccessful rebellion, when $5,000 was offered for his capture, dead or alive.

Mr. King today lunched at the very house at Oakville, Ont., where his grandfather lay in hiding for several days.

FORESTERS' CONVENTION HELD AT DUNCAN

First Meeting Since Conclusion of War, and Much Important Business Transacted — List of Delegates

The Vancouver Island district of the Ancient Order of Foresters held its fourth annual convention at the K. of P. hall, Duncan, on Monday and Tuesday last. Much important business was transacted, as this was the first convention to be held since the termination of the war. Courts at Ladysmith, Cobble Hill, Victoria, and Duncan were represented.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were F. W. Jenkins, District Chief Ranger; E. A. Greenwood, District Sub-Chief Ranger; A. R. Colby, District Treasurer; George W. Andrews, District Secretary. The trustees elected were J. A. Knight, Ladysmith, and Henry Callow, Victoria.

Mr. James Rutledge, on retiring from the post of District Chief Ranger, which he has held for two years past, was presented with a jewel of the order in gold. Mr. Colby, who has served as treasurer for three years, was similarly honored. Mr. E. D. Comley, P.D.C.R., Ladysmith, made the presentations.

The delegates present were Sisters Denyer and Woodcock, Court Maple Leaf, Victoria; Sister Lowe, Court Primrose, Ladysmith; Bros. Greenwood and Callow, Court Vancouver, Victoria; Bros. Wiffen and McDowell, Court Northern Light, Victoria; Bros. Smith and Veitch, Court Camosun, Victoria; Bros. Atkinson and Knight, Court Newcastle, Ladysmith; Bro. Bonner, Court Shawnigan, Cobble Hill; and Bro. Wright, Court Alpha, Duncan.

Next Year's Convention.

It was decided to hold next year's convention at Cobble Hill.

With Bro. Rutledge in the chair a pleasant evening was spent at the Quamichan Hotel on Monday evening, after a dainty supper had been served.

After the loyal toast, the District Chief Ranger proposed the City of Duncan, to which Mr. W. M. Dwyer responded. "The Guests" was proposed by Mr. K. F. Duncan, M. P.P., and responded to by Mr. Colby.

Mr. Bonner proposed The Ladies, and Mrs. Woolcock replied. Mr. Callow proposed the Vancouver Island District A.O.F., and Mr. Andrews responded. Court Alpha was proposed by Mrs. Woolcock and acknowledged by Mr. J. Anderson. Mr. Greenwood proposed The Press, and Mr. Hugh Savage replied.

A musical programme followed. On Tuesday the visitors were taken on a motor trip through the district.

The order is steadily forging ahead. There are eight courts on Vancouver Island and some 1,240 members. During the war over 160,000 members were serving, and some 50,000 lost their lives.

Mr. Callow stated that it was the only order which refused assistance from the British government and, instead, loaned the government some £450,000.

Reference was made to the splendid war record of Court Alpha, Duncan. This court, and that at Cobble Hill, was initiated by Mr. J. Rutledge.—Cowichan Leader.

NORTH SAANICH HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The cause of the fire at the house belonging to Mr. J. Crooks on Marine Drive yesterday afternoon, says The Sidney Review of Thursday, will perhaps remain one of those mysteries which will never be solved. The house had not been occupied for some time, as Mr. Crooks has been caretaker of the Resthaven property for some months, where he resided with his family. The fire was first noticed by Miss B. Johnston, of the Sidney School staff, about 5 o'clock. Miss Johnston immediately hastened to Mrs. B. Deacon's, who sent in an alarm at once to the mill office and to members of the local fire brigade. In the meantime quite a number of people living in the vicinity were busily engaged saving as much of the furniture and effects as possible, and though considerable was lost in the fire, the greater portion of the contents of the house was saved. There being no fire protection of any kind in that section of the town it was impossible to fight the fire successfully, and although there were many willing helpers on the spot shortly after the fire broke out they were absolutely powerless to stay the progress of the flames.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Clyde Foster, while Miss Mary Copeland acted as bridesmaid. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the bridal couple left for Saanich, where they will spend their honeymoon at the Summer camp of the groom's cousin, Mrs. McDonald. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will reside in Nanaimo.

GETS BLOW ON JAW AND LOSES HIS ROLL

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—Shortly after noon today W. Smith, a colored man, was walking on Granville Street when another colored man stepped up to him and asked change for $50.

Smith produced his roll of $560, whereupon the other hit him upon the jaw, causing him to drop the money. The assailant seized it and ran down Drake Street, taking cover in a vacant lot where there is a lot of undergrowth. The police were notified, but could not locate the thief. Smith thinks he knows the man and has furnished a description of him.

LIPTON IS CHEERED BY JAIL INMATES

OSSINING, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Sir Thomas Lipton yesterday visited Sing Sing prison and was given a long ovation by the inmates whom he addressed in the prison yard.

"I am very much gratified, boys," said Sir Thomas, when the cheers subsided. "There never was a man born who did not make a mistake. The thing is, when we grow older, not to make the same mistakes again. I've made them and I guess most of you have."

The Irish baronet was presented with a hand-painted souvenir, made by the inmates.

Pole Vault Mark Is Smashed at Antwerp

Foss, of Chicago, Adds Nearly Three Inches to World's Record—Britishers Win More Firsts in Running Events—Guillemot, French Long Distance Runner, Is Defeated

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—Phenomenal pole-vaulting by F. K. Foss, Chicago A.A., which broke all existing records, and a brilliant distance race by four runners, in which the French marvel, Guillemot, went down in defeat, furnished the thrills for the 10,000 spectators at the Olympic games today. The performances in both these events were exceedingly praiseworthy in view of the rain and cold.

The day was ending with a brilliant sunset, but November-like temperature, just as Foss, the former Cornell star, sailed over the bar, which had been placed at the height of 13 feet 5 1-8 inches. The old world record was 13 feet 2 inches. Foss already was the winner of the first place for the United States, in the pole vault, but he was urged to go on and break the Olympic record. This he did, and then, after a consultation by the officials, the bar was set at the top height, so that Foss might have a chance to excel the world's record. Twice Foss essayed his task and failed. Then, after a long rest and with all the spectators tense, he took an exceedingly long run and a terrific leap, sailed upward and curved his body over the bar like the letter U, snapped the pole backward and dropped amid a great splash of sawdust into the pit on the other side.

The crowds in the stand yelled themselves hoarse as the feat was accomplished.

Woodring Wins 200

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—Allen Woodring, Meadowbrook Club, Philadelphia, won the 200-metre dash at the Olympia Games today in 22 seconds. The record is 21 3-5 seconds, made by A. Hahn, of the United States, at St. Louis in 1904.

Charles W. Paddock, Los Angeles A.C., finished second; H. F. Edward, England, third; Lorin Murchison, New York A.C., fourth; G. Davidson, New Zealand, fifth, and Oosterlaap, of South Africa, sixth.

America scored 15 points in the final of this event. Woodring jumped into the lead at the start and held it the full distance, defeating Paddock by a yard, with the latter 2 1-2 yards ahead of Edward. Edward just nosed out Murchison for third place in the final 100 yards. Forty yards from the tape the three Americans were leading the field, but Murchison was unable to stave off Edward's savage drive at the finish.

Guillemot Beaten

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—Nurmi, the Finnish long-distance runner, won the final of the 10,000-metre run today. Guillemot, the French champion, was second, and J. Wilson, England, third. The winner's time was 31 minutes 45 2-5 seconds.

Macsario, Italy, was fourth; Manhes, France, fifth, and Lumatainen, Finland, sixth. Fred W. Faller, of the Dorchester Club, the only American in the final, was distanced.

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—B. G. D. Rudd, South African crack, won the final heat of the 400-metre Olympic run today. His time was 49 3-5 seconds, 1 2-5 seconds slower than the record. G. E. Butler, England, was second; Engdahl, Sweden, third, and Frank J. Shea, United States Navy, fourth; J. C. Ainsworth Davis, England, fifth, and Dafel, South Africa, sixth.

All the finalists were flighty at the start, requiring one pistol recall due to Dafel's break. On the back stretch Shea was leading by a trifle, but appeared to lose speed on the second turn, being passed by Rudd, Butler and Engdahl. At this time Shea seemed to be experiencing difficulty.

England Wins First.

ANTWERP, Aug. 19.—England was first in the final heat of the 3,000-metre steeplechase race in the Olympic Games today when Hodge, one of her stars, led the field across the finish.

Three Americans were in the first six to finish, Patrick Flynn, Paulist A.C., was second; Michael Devanney, Millrose A.A., fifth and Al Hulsenbosch, Paulist A.C., sixth. Ambrosini, Italy, was third and Matson, Sweden, fourth. Hodge's time was 10 minutes 2 2-5 seconds. The race was run in a cold rain. Hodge breezed home fifty yards ahead of Flynn.

Brutus Hamilton, University of Missouri; Harry Goelitz, Illinois A. C.; Lieut. E. L. Vidal, United States Army and E. Ellis, Syracuse University, were the American entrants in the classic decathlon which began today and will be finished tomorrow.

The American team in sword dueling defeated the Czecho-Slovaks eleven victories to five, but was beaten by the Swiss seven to six. The Americans stand a chance to win sixth place.

M. J. McGrath, New York A.C., was unable to enter the trials in throwing the 56-pound weight, owing to a strain he suffered this week, and Lieut. Roberts, U.S.A., and John Machearn, Olympic Club, failed to qualify.

America, however, was not out of the finals for H. J. McDonald, New York A.C., won first place, throwing the weight 11 metres, and P. Ryan, Loughlin Lyceum, took second place with 10.925 metres. McDiarmid of Canada also qualified.

Weather Is Wet.

The weather was again unfavorable today. There was a cold drizzling rain and only a few spectators turned out for the opening events of the morning. In addition to the 3,000-metre steeplechase and the 56-pound weight finals, the programme for the day included the 200 and 400-metre dashes, the 1,000-metre walk, the pole vault and the first contests in the decathlon. Canada has entrants in several of these events, and is also represented in the Olympic boxing events, which began today at the Hall of Fetes at the Antwerp Zoological Gardens. The list of boxers who are entered to represent the Dominion includes Harry Turner, Montreal, 112 pounds; Walter Newton, Toronto, 126 pounds; Billy Rankin, Edmonton, 126 pounds; Clarence Newton, Toronto, 135 pounds; Albert Schneider, Montreal, 147 pounds; Corporal A. Prudhomme, London, 160 pounds and 175 pounds, and M. M. Herscovitch, Montreal, 160 and 175 pounds.

Total Scores.

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—The total scores in athletic events, track and field, at the finish of today's programme in the Olympic stadium follows:

United States, 158; England, 66; Finland, 58; Sweden, 50; France, 20; South Africa, 16; Italy, 14; Canada, 7; Denmark, 7; New Zealand, 5; Norway, 3; Esthonia, 3; Czecho-Slovakia, 3; Holland, 2; Belgium, 1.

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—Alex. Ponton, Toronto, was fourth in the semi-final heat of the 200-metres race at the Olympia games today and did not qualify for the final. He ran gamely.

BOTH CLUBS HOPE FOR VICTORIES

J. B. A. A. and Shawnigan Lake Rowing Clubs Should Furnish Fine Sport in Four-Oared Races Today

Tickets for the special train to Shawnigan Lake today, for the fifteenth annual regatta of the Shawnigan Lake Athletic Club, have been selling rapidly and everything points to a big crowd being in attendance when the races start this afternoon. Reports from the Lake indicate that the Up-Island boys are confident of winning both the Dr. Lewis Hall Cup and the Walbank Cup, but the J.B.A.A. crews will have to be reckoned with, and as they are both excellent fours, two fine struggles will be witnessed. The big race, between Johnson's and Kingsley's crews, is expected to take place late in the afternoon, and the outcome is very doubtful, as the Shawnigan Lake oarsmen are much heavier than their opponents, and they are said to be making fast time. The J.B.A.A., however, look to Johnson to win, as he has his men well together, and they have put in a lot of hard work for this event.

Frost will stroke the J.B.A.A. four in the Walbank Cup race, and he should win, his stylish stroke, backed up by the willing efforts of the boys behind him, making an excellent crew.

The Peden Cup

The skiff race for the Peden Cup always is one of the most important events on the programme, and the Lake boys have shown in the past that they can put formidable entries in this race. If Wickson, the J.B.A.A. senior stroke, can get up in time he will enter, and his appearance will add greatly to the interest, as anyone who beats him will know that he has been in a race.

Swimming and Canoeing

The swimming and canoe races are expected to provide some of the best sport of the afternoon, as all the experts, both at the Lake and from the J.B.A.A., have expressed their intention of entering, and some splendid contests are sure to take place. Russell Ross, of the J.B.A.A., always looks upon the crab canoe race as his pet "stunt," and he will be on hand to uphold his reputation. In the single paddle canoe race W. Day or V. Fawcett should provide stiff opposition for anyone who enters against them, while the mixed tandem canoe race always is one of the star events. Then there will be Evinrude and sailing races, and in the evening there will be a big wind-up with a dance in the Shawnigan Lake Clubhouse, when an attendance of several hundred is expected, and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. The train for Shawnigan Lake will leave the E. and N. station at 9 o'clock this morning, and a return need not be made until Sunday evening. As the tickets have been placed at the very reasonable figure of 75 cents, everyone is given an opportunity to take in the regatta and dance, and enjoy a brief holiday in delightful surroundings.

HUTCHINSON TO MEET EDGAR IN FINALS

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—J. Douglas Edgar, Atlanta, Ga., Canadian open champion and Jock Hutchinson, Chicago, were the winners in the semi-finals today in the professional golfers' association tournament, and will meet tomorrow in the finals. Edgar defeated George McLean, Great Neck, N.Y., 5 to 7, and Hutchinson won from Harry Hampton, Richmond, Va., 4 to 3.

Esquimalt Gun Club

The Esquimalt Gun Club will hold a practice shoot tomorrow morning at 10:30 at the club grounds, Admirals Road. Everybody will be welcome.

Tourists! The Malahat Drive, a swim in the tepid waters of Shawnigan Lake and dine at Strathcona Lodge.

NICHOLSON OFFERED JOB OF DESIGNING CANADIAN YACHT

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—A. Cross, promoter of the All-Canadian challenge for the America's Cup, has cabled Charles G. Nicholson, designer of the Shamrock IV., to inquire whether he would accept a commission to come to Canada to design the new Maple Leaf. Mr. Cross desires that the yacht should be Canadian in every particular, from the men who build her to the crew who sail her. Mr. Nicholson accepts the commission provided the preliminary work is carried on in England, where he wishes the moulds, etc., to be constructed, and then shipped over to Canada.

NEW YORK GIANTS BID FOR LOCAL PLAYERS

Harry Morton and Lee Dempsey Figure in Deal Now Pending Between Victoria Club and John McGraw

The New York Giants are making overtures to the Victoria baseball club for the acquisition of Pitcher Harry Morton and First Baseman Lee Dempsey, it was learned yesterday.

"Negotiations have been opened and it is probable that we will be able to reach an agreement in the near future," said President Jack O'Brien last night. "The only thing holding up the deal is the purchase price, but I think everything will be settled shortly whereby Morton and Dempsey will both report next season to the New York Nationals."

Dempsey and Morton have frequently been mentioned as big league prospects this year. Bob Connery, of the New York Yankees, was favorably impressed with the two players when he saw them work here a few weeks ago, and Connery wouldn't draw his weekly cheque unless he had the faculty of knowing good baseball material when he sees it.

Morton has pitched about twenty-eight games this year and has won about two thirds of them. Dempsey is hitting considerably over .325 and leads the league in extra-base hitting. He is a good fielder, is full of the fighting spirit and, while just a kid, most of those who have seen him perform agree that he is ready for much faster company.

Victoria has already furnished one great first baseman to the New York Giants in the person of George Kelley, who is McGraw's regular first sacker today. Kelley played first base for Victoria about five years ago under Mike Lynch and made good from the start. He went to the big leagues, was farmed out to the International League, and joined the Giants last year. Today he is regarded as one of the niftiest first basemen in the game. He is clouting the ball at a .300 clip and is one of the mainstays of Muggsy's aggregation.

ELKS ARE HOLDING TENNIS TOURNAMENT

First on Their New Court Will Be Played Next Wednesday —Picnic and Dance Will Round Out Day

The Elks swimming club is holding a tennis tournament for their club members on their newly completed tennis court on Wednesday next, August 25. Already a number of entries have been received for the tournament and it is expected that when the entry list closes there will be enough competitors to carry the tournament, not only through the afternoon, but well into the evening. The tennis court is in excellent shape, thanks to Mr. Ted Shewell, whom the club have to thank for its speedy completion.

On the day of the tournament there will also be a basket picnic at the Elks' quarters at the Gorge and a good time is assured to all who come to the picnic, while Mr. Shewell, chairman of the tennis committee, guarantees that the tennis will be of a brand well worth watching.

Immediately after the picnic, the regular Elks' monthly dance will be held with Perry's three piece orchestra in attendance. These monthly dances have all been a great success hitherto, thanks to the well-appreciated efforts of Mr. Gus Brown, chairman, and Mr. Jack Woods, secretary of the dance committee.

ROYALS WIN TIGHT GAME FROM TERMINALS

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—Battling through three periods without either team having scored, New Westminster and Vancouver amateur lacrosse teams last night entered the fourth and final quarter with a spirit of "do or die." New Westminster "did"—three times, and the V. A. C. were unable to retaliate. The victory clinches the Mann Cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of Canada, for the Royal City crew, the final count being New Westminster, 3; Vancouver, 0.

THOUSANDS ATTEND CHAPMAN'S FUNERAL

CLEVELAND, August 20.—Cleveland paid its final tribute to Ray Chapman today.

Long before 10 o'clock, the hour of the funeral services in St. John's Cathedral, thousands of men, women and children gathered to attend the services for the star shortstop of the Cleveland American team, who died in New York Tuesday morning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—While Ray Chapman, fatally injured here last Monday by a ball pitched by Carl Mays, of the New York club, was being buried today in Cleveland, Mays was lying in his home here, suffering from a nervous breakdown.

This became known when an official of the Yankees appeared in traffic court and pleaded guilty for Mays to a charge of speeding last month and paid a $25 fine. Mays has not played since resumption of the New York-Cleveland series.

TWO JACKS TO HOLD SNOOKER HANDICAP

Many Good Players Developed in Popular Rooms—Tournament Will Be First of Kind to Be Held Here

Entries are now being received for a Snooker handicap at the Two Jacks billiard parlor (upstairs). Snooker is growing in popularity at these rooms all the time and there are a number of good players developing right along, in addition to the old hands at the game. This tournament, therefore, promises to create no little interest, as a tournament of this kind has never been held in the city before. It will be played along championship lines, total points in three games to determine the winner.

Three suitable prizes will be given, together with a special prize for the player making the highest run in proportion to handicap.

SPORT ATTRACTIONS OF DAY ARE VARIED

Footballers Are Holding Meet at Athletic Park, Eagles at Stadium — Crucial Cricket at Hospital Grounds

Today will be quite a busy day in local sporting circles. A strong contingent will, of course, leave the city for a week-end trip to Shawnigan to take in the annual regatta of the Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association. Those sport followers who are left in the city will have their choice of several notable events. The cricket lovers will be treated to what may well prove one of the most exciting matches of the season, when the Five C's and Congos meet at the Jubilee Hospital ground in the last scheduled match of the Virtue Cup series, on the outcome of which depends whether the Incogs. are returned winners of the league championship and the Virtue Cup or have to play off a tie for first position with the Five C's. With only one other cricket game announced for the day, namely a friendly affair between the Albions and the Incogs., there should be a big attendance of the followers of the game to see this afternoon's contest.

Choice of Attractions

Those who are looking for somewhat different attractions in the line of sport can take their choice between the field sports of the Victoria and District Football Association, being held at the Royal Athletic Park which will include a five-a-side soccer tournament between teams picked from the strongest clubs here and from other places on the Island, as well as a number of racing events, and the grand field day announced by the Eagles at the Stadium, where a long and varied programme, including a number of mounted events, will be pulled off. For each of these big affairs a fine list of prizes has been provided and it is reported that full lists of entries have been received for all events.

Those who are keen on soccer will doubtless proceed to the Royal Athletic Park for their afternoon's entertainment, while the lovers of horseflesh will possibly be influenced by this in their decision to try the bill of fare provided by the Eagles at the Stadium, where mounted events will be a big feature of the programme. In either case an excellent afternoon's sport is assured.

SPEED FIENDS WILL RACE AT ELGIN TODAY

American Motor Championship at Stake—Conditions Are Good for Making Fast Time in Contest

ELGIN, Ills., Aug. 20.—With the American automobile race championship as a possible prize for the winner, the Elgin National Road race is scheduled to be run over the eight and a quarter-mile course tomorrow afternoon under conditions which tonight are said by race followers to indicate record-breaking speed.

Drawings for position at the start today placed Ralph de Palma first, with Jimmy Murphy second. Following in the order named came: Eddie Hearne, Cliff Durant, Tom Milton, Eddie O'Donnell, Gaston Chevrolet, Percy Ford and Ralph Mulford.

The record for the race is 77.27 miles an hour, made by Gil Anderson in 1915. Tommy Milton won last year with an average of 73.9.

BENEFIT FOR MURPHY

SPOKANE, Aug. 20. — A benefit game for Arthur (Spud) Murphy, Spokane first baseman, who is confined in a sanitarium at Yakima as a result of illness, will be played here Aug. 29 between the local club of the Pacific International Baseball League and a team of former city league players, it was announced today.

No Blame For Mays.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—No official action antagonistic to Carl Mays, the New York American League player, who pitched the ball Monday which resulted in Ray Chapman's death, will be taken by President B. B. Johnson, of the American League. The case is ended as far as he is concerned, Johnson declared here today.

MORE FIRES START IN COAST FORESTS

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—A new bush fire has developed at Owl Creek on the P.G.E. A big fire is raging at Rock Bay, and the conflagration in the woods behind Stillwater has assumed serious dimensions.

Other fires burning between Vancouver and Seymour Narrows are being held.

This is a summary of the fire situation as compiled from the latest reports received from different points by the district forester's office.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN RULES OF RUGBY

At a meeting of the International Rugby Board, held at the Great Northern Hotel, London, on July 23, several important amendments to the existing rules of the game were made. It was decided that Rule 11 should provide that where a player does not immediately place the ball in the scrimmage a free kick may be demanded as a penalty. The change will be abolished in the case of penalty kicks. There will be a Rule 21 to read that in cases where a scrimmage is ordered for breach of rules inside the twenty-five-yard line, if the breach occurs within ten yards of the line the scrimmage is to be at ten yards. Other amendments agreed to provide that in Rule 18, after a try, the ball is to be kicked off from half-way, and that in the case of a fair catch the player who makes the catch must kick the ball.

VICTORIA SWIMMERS LEAVE FOR MAINLAND

Victoria Amateur Swimming Club Sending Strong Contingent for Championship Events at Vancouver

The Victoria Amateur Swimming club will send a strong contingent of swimmers and divers to Vancouver to take part in the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club to be held there today. Three Provincial championships are included in the programme, the 100 yards and 220 yards swims and the diving championships. Earl Squire is representing the club in the latter event, in which he will be defending the title he won last year at the gala of the Foundation Swimming Club. The others in the party are G. Stott, V. J. Dunn, J. Johnson, J. Howden, G. Wellburn, S. Silburn and L. Plumb.

centre to subscribe to the advertising campaign to be conducted during the week through the newspapers and other mediums.

"If Victoria is to have permanent prosperity, she has got to have industries, and have them on a sound economic footing," said Mr. Pendray. "There is no use trying to attract new industries here unless the industries already established are flourishing, and I believe that Victoria's industries are entitled to a greater share of home support than they have been receiving. The object of Made-in-Victoria Week is to create a demand on the part of the consuming public for Made-in-Victoria goods. It will be the business of the retailers and in turn the wholesalers and manufacturers to see that this demand is filled and that the situation is thoroughly met."

Not a Fair

Mr. Pendray explained that Made-in-Victoria Week should not be confused with the home products fair idea. No exhibition of manufactures was being arranged as a feature of the week. That would come on later during the big Fall fair at the Willows. He pointed out that interest in the week would be created by a series of festivities commencing Labor Day, when a basket picnic, sports, monster bonfire, community singing and other entertainment features were to be carried out at Curtis Point on the Victoria Arm. He pointed out that the sports programme was to be held with the sanction of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Association and that substantial prizes for the various events were to be provided by the manufacturers of the city. Made-in-Victoria Week would be wound up finally with a big street dance Saturday night, September 11. All through the week interest in the movement would be maintained at a high pitch through various forms of publicity. Five thousand special programmes were being printed for distribution among Victoria's households, he announced.

Mr. L. D. Rines and Mr. W. T. Williams were appointed members of a committee to arrange for the prizes to be given in connection with the Labor Day sports

PLANS PULP WORKS FOR MASSET INLET

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—F. L. Buckley, of the Masset Timber Co., who returned from Masset this week, states that water measurements are being taken and all plans laid at Masset by his company in preparation for the establishment of a modern pulp plant.

English capitalists are behind the venture, Mr. Buckley stated, and without doubt actual building operations on the plant will start next year.

He describes the limits at Masset as containing the best pulpwood in the Province.

MATCHES FIX NAMES FOR GRAND AGGREGATE

City of Ottawa Competition Is Completed at the Rockliffe Ranges — London Merchants' Cup Is Shot For

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Today's shooting at the D. R. A. matches at Rockliffe ranges here consisted of the City of Ottawa match and the London Merchants Cup.

The most interesting feature was the fact that the finish of the City of Ottawa match enabled the Grand Aggregate to be made up. Sergeant Hawkins, 48th Highlanders, Toronto, proved the winner with a score of 499 out of a possible 545. The scores in this aggregate are added to the scores in the second stage of the Governor-General's, which is the only match to be shot tomorrow, and the first 20 in this aggregate are the Bisley team of 1921. It is considered likely that the Bisley team will come from the first 40 or 50 riflemen in the grand aggregate.

Summaries

City of Ottawa trophy, 300 and 500 yards, 10 rounds at each, teams of eight men for Ottawa City Cup, gold medal for best individual score: High man, medal and $30, M. F. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

BOGUS DETECTIVES ROB CHINESE CLUB

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—Posing as city detectives, three bandits at an early hour this morning entered the Chinese Merchants' Club on La Gauchetiere Street, and after pretending to search the premises for opium, robbed the place of $8,000. In a fight that took place, two Chinamen, Ah Sing Wong and Ah Quong Ho, were badly injured.

The bandits, after a general search of the premises, ordered the Chinese to open the safe, where the money was found.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRY

Cases Cited Which Prove the Fallacy of Views That Community Operation May Be Generally Profitable

We need not go far for evidence that the value of an undertaking is apt to diminish when its control is transferred from experts to the community, which in practice means to politicians and bureaucrats. In an exceedingly interesting and informing address to the employees of the Allgemeine Elektricitats Gesellschaft, Mr. Felix Deutsch observes that during the four years before the war the Berlin Electricity Works distributed to the shareholders some 6,129,000 marks annually. The city having a first charge of 10 per cent on the gross profits received from 3,500,000 marks to 4,000,000 marks annually, whilst in other taxes the company contributed annually to public purposes another 3,000,000 marks. It thus appears that the share of the community in the profits of this undertaking exceeded by one-sixth that of the shareholders, and it should be noted that the public charges were first charges on the undertaking, although the public took none of the risks. Nevertheless the city having got much, desired more; and decided accordingly to acquire the undertaking. The result was an immediate fall in the profits, which continued, and has ultimately led to the complete disappearance of all return to the new owners. Of course, the conditions have been abnormal during the past few years, and were it not that the experience has been frequently paralleled here and in normal times, it would be unfair to quote it as an example of the futility of socialisation. Telegraph profits it will be remembered disappeared rapidly after being taken over by the State. Again, some fifteen years ago, a large borough in the London area refused to renew a lease of their tramways undertaking to the company then working it, in spite of the very liberal terms offered. The liberality of these terms was, in fact, used as an additional reason in favor of getting rid of the company, as it was argued that the profit on working must be extraordinarily high to have made such proposals possible. The actual result of municipal management was the rapid disappearance of all profit whatsoever. A non-material something had disappeared with the transfer from private to public control, and with it vanished the anticipated large relief to the rates. Of course, had the town in question been situated outside the London area a nominal profit might have been secured (as is done in Manchester, Glasgow and other provincial cities), by denying to the public the advantages of novel and improved methods of transport, but it can hardly be doubted the loss to the public in those cities, thus occasioned, far exceeds in value the relief to the rates secured by this shortsighted policy. When, as in the London area, it is impracticable to establish a legal monopoly of transport, the cry of the social reformer is for what that self-constituted authority on the principles of mechanics and on transportation, the late Sir Lawrence Gomme, called the "organisation of the traffic." This put into plain language means that when the railways were first introduced the traffic keep the stage coaches permanently should have been so organised as to in service.—London Engineering.

BY-LAW CAMPAIGN ENDS IN SAANICH

Ward Six, Which Has Provided Principal Opposition to the Saanich Measures, Hears Speakers in Final Meeting

What was classed by ex-Councillor Tanner as "perhaps the most famous campaign ever held in Saanich" came to a close last night with a meeting in the Temperance Hall, Keating, when the water and sewer by-laws were explained to a meeting of Ward Six ratepayers who had gone on record at a previous gathering to oppose both measures on principle because the taxation system of the municipality in their eyes was not equitable. The meeting was well attended. A party of Gordon Head farmers were in the hall to endeavor to catch votes for the water by-law, which, together with the sewer by-law, goes before the ratepayers today. Representing Ward Six, ex-Councillor Tanner has attended every meeting held during the campaign and has fought hard against the by-laws. Last night he was in his own territory. The speakers were given a good hearing. There was no heckling, and only a few questions.

The great necessities in the outer wards were good roads and good schools, stated Reve Watson, and these necessities had been met. This year the Council was expending $10,000 on the West Saanich Road, two and a half times what any other ward in the municipality will get. "I just mention these facts to show that the Council has been meting out fair play to all concerned," he added, and then went into an explanation of the sewer by-law.

"The by-law has been under consideration eight or nine months," declared the Reeve in answer to the claim made at past meetings by Councillor Clark. "It has received all the consideration reasonably necessary." The speaker felt it his duty to point out that the Government engineer who went over the system reported that the Municipal Engineer's figures, on which the by-law was based, were 35 per cent too low. Someone in the audience thought even the Government official was too conservative. The Reeve replied that just as soon as contractors had put in their figures it would be known who was right, and if the scheme could not be carried out for the amount stated in the by-law the work would not be done.

The Reeve's Position.

After Reeve Watson had completed his explanation of the water by-law, which he recommended to the ratepayers, Mr. Johns asked, "You have stated your position on the water by-law. Are you in favor of the sewer by-law?" The Reeve replied that he had pointed out the need of a sewer system and explained that the amount to be paid the city for the northwest sewer would increase as the system was delayed. He did not think that even the Reeve should say whether the people to be affected should saddle the expense. Mr. Johns thought that he should guide the ratepayers with his opinion. "I'm not going to express a personal opinion," retorted the Reeve and sat down. Councillor Clark, after speaking in favor of the water by-law, went on to point out that the sewer by-law had been rushed through the Council, in spite of anything Reeve Watson might say. He thought the by-law should not be submitted until the first of the year. The Councillor pointed out that no provision had been made for storm water. Mr. D. S. Tait pointed out that no surface water was allowed through the northwest sewer. That being the case, said the Councillor, there would still be a lack of drainage in the low-lying districts. The whole amount of the by-law would have to be spent before the results desired would be obtained, owing to the fact that if only the initial work is done, the sewage from the houses in the unsewered high level district would go down onto those houses with sewers.

"Honestly, I don't think these people can pay," he added, dealing with the cost of the system to those within the sewer district.

Gordon Head's Need.

The need of water in Gordon Head was stressed by Ex-Councillor Summer, of Gordon Head. The system was needed, he said, for domestic purposes and also to increase production, the latter being necessary to pay the ordinary municipal taxes, which are three times per acre what they are in Ward Six.

Mr. Summer was one of a party of Gordon Head farmers who attended the meeting to boost the water by-law.

For the first time in the present campaign Councillor Brooks appeared to speak. He thought it was really the wrong time for the water extension to Gordon Head. He doubted if the proposed system would be large enough for irrigation purposes. The councillor followed this up by saying that he thought both the water and sewers were desirable.

Mr. Johns wanted to know of Councillor Brooks if he wasn't instructed by the last Ward Six ratepayers' meeting to oppose these by-laws. "You seem to be in favor of both by-laws," protested Mr. Johns. "I'm not in favor of them if the people can't pay for them," replied the councillor, and finally sat down with the meeting still wondering where he stood on the matter.

A Famous Campaign

Speaking in his own ward and mainly to members of a ratepayers' association of which he is president, ex-Councillor Tanner gave his final address in what he referred to as "perhaps the most famous campaign ever held in Saanich." The fight was fought with great importance, he said, and the ratepayers had taken great interest. "I believe this campaign will result in radical changes to the Municipal Act," he added, "equitable changes."

Councillor Tanner outlined a unique position on the water by-law. He put forth arguments to prove the value of the proposed Gordon Head system to Saanich from a business standpoint, but, he said, as his association had gone on record as being against all money by-laws on principle, owing to unfair taxation methods, he would oppose both measures. He believed this was the only frank way he could deal with the matter.

The ex-councillor then left the water by-law and attacked the sewer by-law from various standpoints, denouncing it.

A Narrow View

Mr. Jeff Vantreight, of Gordon Head, thought this view a very narrow one and referred to conditions within the area.

Mr. Tanner gave what he considered a solution of the sewer problem. If Saanich owed the city $54,000 for sewers, meetings should be held throughout the municipality to see if the ratepayers wished to pay the interest for the present or to pay up the whole amount. If the latter decision was reached, a by-law should be prepared and the debt wiped out. Mr. Tanner thought that the city would thens allow sewer connections to be made in the "aggravated cases."

The Gordon Head delegation made an effort to move Mr. Tanner from his stand. Municipal Clerk Cowper corrected the ex-councilor in some of his statements.

Prejudice Against By-Law

Mr. Tanner repeated that the by-laws were not considered on their merits in Ward Six, but were being opposed because if they passed the outer wards would find their credit fully pledged if at any time they wished to secede. "Then all progress will stop until you secede," spoke up a Gordon Head farmer.

"Not so," replied Mr. Tanner. "I look forward to the time when Ward Three will come in with the other outer wards and form a rural zone as against an urban zone, resulting in greater equity of taxation."

Mr. Tait's Committee Rooms.

The campaign officers of the party supporting Mr. D. S. Tait for the position of School Trustee in the Saanich election today, will be in the offices of Mr. George McGregor, Belmont Building, phone 1936, and anyone wishing to vote is requested to let them know, when arrangements for transportation will be made at once. A telephone message to 5240 also will be promptly attended to by Mr. Tait's supporters.

The committee rooms of Mr. H. C. Oldfield, opposition candidate, are at the offices of Jones & Rant, Cormorant Street.

Moscow Authorities Send Out Significant Message—Danzig Germans Ill-Use Polish Emigrants

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The need of a Russian-German agreement "to save Europe from an economic catastrophe and chaos" is emphasized in a wireless message from Moscow published in The London Times today. Following the announcement that Leon Trotsky, Bolshevist Minister of War, visited East Prussia and conferred with German staff officers, The Times says the wireless dispatch is significant. The message says there is hope that Germany will soon conclude a political and economic convention with Russia.

"The Soviet hopes thus expressed," says The Times, "strengthens the belief that Moscow and Berlin already have reached an understanding."

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Polish emigrants for the United States to the number of 450 have been stopped by the Danzig authorities on the Polish frontier on the pretence that many of them are of military age and might be used in the warfare against the Bolsheviki, according to a Berlin dispatch to The London Times. Two hundred of the party are children under ten, and there are many women in the group. The Berlin dispatch says there is much suffering.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—Advices from Kattowitz, Upper Silesia, late today, said that strong contingents of French troops were occupying the principal streets and that cavalry patrols and armored automobiles were dispersing pedestrians wherever these threatened to congregate.

A Breslau dispatch reports Polish troops have crossed the Silesian frontier and arrived before Kattowitz.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—General Gatley, of the French Army, sent to Kattowitz by General Lerond, head of the inter-Allied commission in Upper Silesia, has ordered the state of siege proclaimed in Kattowitz maintained with the utmost severity, says a message to the Vossiche Zeitung from Kattowitz.

DID NOT TENDER

Wishing to keep the ways clear for French ships which, it has been rumored, may come to the Victoria yard, the Harbor Marine Yard did not tender on the C. P. R. steamer as reported in the announcement that the Wallace Shipyard had obtained the contract.

May Succeed Senator Douglas

REGINA, Aug. 20.—It is rumored today that Sir Richard Lake, Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, whose term of office expires in October, will be successor in the Senate to Senator Douglas, who died yesterday.

Mustapha Gathers Forces

ATHENS, Aug. 20. — Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Turkish Nationalist leader, is reported to be concentrating in the vicinity of Erzerum forces made up of Tartars and Turks, with a sprinkling of Bolsheviki from Baku. The reports describe him as determined to keep up attacks on Greek outposts.

Feeding of Snakes

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20.—It is not cruelty to animals to feed a live chicken to a snake. Sir Hugh John Macdonald made this ruling in the police court today when the Humane Society prosecuted a snake charmer who fed a chicken to a 260 pound boa constrictor.

SAYS GOVERNMENT BEHIND CANDIDATE

Final Meeting of Hot Campaign for School Trustee Brings Strong Charges by Trustee Holloway

Charges that Mr. D. S. Tait, candidate for the position of school trustee in Saanich, was a "tool" of the Government which was behind the defence of the famous school "frills," were made by Trustee Holloway last night in the final meeting of the hot campaign which has been waged during the past week over the election of school trustee which is being held today. The gathering was in the Temperance Hall, Keating.

Referring to the fact that Mr. John Kyle, organizer of technical training in British Columbia, had given an address before one of the campaign meetings, Mr. Holloway demanded to know if the meeting thought it right that Government officials should take part in the fight.

"The whole crowd of them are shaking down to their toes," declared the trustee vehemently, in the most accusative address yet given by him. "Some are going to lose their jobs." The meeting had no idea, he said, how many officials there were in the Educational Department. "They are behind the teachers of this Province and are spurring them on," continued the speaker, referring to the requests of the teachers for higher salaries.

Mr. Tait, who had already spoken, stated that he had a right to answer these personal attacks, but there was some opposition. Finally he did commence. He flatly denied that the Government had anything to do with his nomination or campaign. "Trustee Holloway would have been more manly if he had left that out as I have already answered the charge at former meetings," he said. Trustee Holloway interrupted and shouted repetitions of his claim, preventing Mr. Tait from speaking. "Bring the whole cargo of your paid officials out here and I'll face them all," he yelled, beseeching Mr. Tait to let the Government men answer the charge themselves. After constant interruptions from the trustee who was in his own meeting, the candidate succeeded in giving a brief reply.

As to Rotary Clubs

Another argument put up to the meeting by Trustee Holloway in the course of a somewhat violent harangue was that a Rotary Club would be witnessed in the School Board if Mr. Tait were elected. There would be one representative of each of certain businesses and professions.

What was evidently a diversion from what he has stated on previous occasions came when the trustee said that he had no intention, on the School Board, of working for the abolition of manual training. He believed this course could be run economically. He would not, however, advocate the appointment of a manual training instructor to take the place of Mr. L. Campbell who has resigned. If he had his way, the assistant alone would carry on the work.

Dealing with domestic science particularly, Mr. Holloway claimed it was an insult to allow supervisors to teach teachers to teach children to teach their parents.

Owing to the by-law discussion preceding it, the debate of school questions did not end until after midnight.

Would Teach Swimming

Dealing briefly with the school question, ex-Councillor Tanner spoke for Mr. H. C. Oldfield, trustee candidate. He thought that training in sports, and particularly in swimming, were more necessary than the so-called "frills."

Schools and Politics

"I think that the schools should be kept out of district politics," declared Mr. D. S. Tait, trustee candidate, taking up the move on the part of some to abolish manual training, school gardening, and domestic science, owing to the high taxes paid by farmers. The cutting out of the disputed subjects would mean only a reduction of less than half a mill. "I believe these subjects to be of greater importance than many of the others taught," he added. After defending manual training briefly, Mr. Tait outlined the domestic science course which it was proposed to introduce into Saanich schools, which at present have only sewing.

Praises Rural Science

Rural science was particularly dwelt upon by the trustee candidate, who pointed out that, after investigation of the subject, which includes school gardening, he had decided that, if elected, he would support the course to the best of his ability. Farming communities throughout the world were calling for rural science. The scholastic nature of the school curriculum was sending the children away from the country into the cities and towns.

Mr. H. Clarence Oldfield, "anti-frill" candidate, outlined his platform and repeated the arguments used by his supporters.

Silk From Spiders

In Madagascar, experiments have been made with spider's web as a substitute for silk, and the results are so encouraging that the opinion is that a great and lucrative industry will result. Many persons have tried to utilise spider's web. In 1708, Bon Saint Hilaire, president of the Court of Accounts at Montpellier, actually made a few pairs of stockings and gloves of spider's web. In Madagascar, the spiders are bought for about 8 cents a piece and put to work. About four or five times every ten days they start to spin and continue until exhausted. Their product is wound on spools as fast as they spin it, and at each spinning 300 or 400 yards are obtained. The threads of a dozen spiders are twisted together and two of these twisted strands are again twisted so that a thread of twenty-four finer threads is obtained. For fineness, strength, and beautiful yellow color, this silk is much superior to that of silkworms.

Contractor Crushed to Death

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20.—John McPherson, a well-known contractor and lumberman of this city, was crushed to death by a log while watching operations at Rivers Inlet camp. He was born at Mattawatchan, Ontario, 50 years ago.

DISCUSSION HELD ON SURGERY OF HEART

Wonderful Operations Described in Lecture Theatre of Paris School of Medicine —Authorities Heard

The lecture theatre of the School of Medicine in Paris was crowded one afternoon recently in every part by distinguished men of all nations, to hear the discussion on surgery of the heart and great blood-vessels, which was opened by that very distinguished surgeon, Dr. Tuffier, of Paris.

The subject possesses all the thrill of a new branch of healing, and, in addition, there is an appeal to the imagination, which operative measures, hitherto deemed impossible, are bound to exercise. When Professor Tuffier began his lecture there was a sense of excitement which is quite unusual in such assemblies. This was renewed when, by means of his diagram of a section of the heart, he showed that areas in which wounds and injuries always or nearly always are considered mortal, are areas in which they afford a chance to the modern surgeon to show his powers.

The heart, as is well known, possesses a number of valves to prevent regurgitation of the blood, and contains also a strand of tissue, the so-called "bundle of His," which transmits the impulse of the beat from one part to another of the organ. These are very dangerous areas. On the other hand, the muscular walls of the organ may be repaired with complete success. Dr. Tuffier had a series of 305 cases of heart injuries. Of these 151 were cured and 149 died. In five cases the results were unknown. This gives a mortality of 49.66 per cent, an achievement which can only be regarded as remarkable.

Reference was also made to massage of the heart; this is carried out by making a wound just under the ribs. The hand is then passed in and grasps the organs from below. The heart is seized and can be set beating again after it has to all appearance completely stopped.

Dr. Sencert, of Strasbourg, who followed Dr. Tuffier, declared that wounds of the blood-vessels should at once be operated upon. The old method of simply ligaturing an injured vessel was bad and led to poor results. "The surgical treatment of the remote consequences of arterial wounds," he said, "is reparative surgery."

The same note of great courage characterised the address of Professor Alessandri, of Rome, who recalled the fact that the first case of successful surgical interference in the region of the heart occurred at Rome as far back as 1891, though this was an opération on the chamber in which the heart lies and not on the heart itself. The method of massage was dwelt upon as an important adjunct to the surgical work on the heart; the surgeon possesses means of stimulating the organ should it flag. The American School was represented by Dr. Goodman, of New York, who declared that the most notable innovations in blood-vessel surgery during the war were Tuffier's "arterial incubation" and Leriche's theory of "stupeur arteriel."

The debate was carried on by surgeons from all over the world—Bukarest, Nice, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Belgrade, Rotterdam, Marseilles, and other places. One gathered the opinion that while surgery of the heart is as yet in its infancy a future opens before it that may be greater than is at present realised. This organ, indeed, is by no means so fragile as has been supposed, and yields itself readily enough to the care and technique of a good surgeon.

News of the signing of a treaty between Prussia and Australia was the first message carried over the Atlantic cable.

POLICE CELLS FAIL TO HOLD PRISONER

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20. — Miles Damescher, arrested a few days ago for a burglary at a shoe store on the morning of August 14, when thirty-five pairs of shoes were stolen, made a successful jail break from police headquarters some time during Thursday night or early today.

Damescher's absence was noticed at 8:30 a.m. Search revealed the fact that the man had broken the glass of a skylight, and springing the guarding rods, made his way to the roof, reaching the ground by means of the fire escape.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE RESTORE ENTENTE

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The official entente between France and Great Britain has been more or less restored, says a Paris dispatch to The London Times. Following an extended interview with Premier Lloyd George, the dispatch adds, the Earl of Derby, British Ambassador at Paris, again visited the French Foreign Office, and "the more immediate delicate moment in Anglo-French relations has passed."

The ambassador now, The Times says, "feels justified in resuming his vacation."

Although no new fact has arisen to bring the French and British policy in the Russian-Polish situation in closer harmony, The Times points out, the series of conversations which have been going on in Paris developed the fact that the fundamental differences between France and England is on the Polish question, and that the two countries are in complete agreement on all other issues.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED FOR PONZI ESTATE

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—Settlement of the affairs of Charles Ponzi, whose scheme of high finance was stopped with millions of dollars of the public's money tied up, was advanced today with the appointment of three receivers. At their suggestion James M. Olmstead, referee in bankruptcy, was assigned to take testimony for them, and hearings will be begun tomorrow, with the object of rounding up all available information of assets for the receivers.

Ponzi's statement that assets would aggregate $4,000,000 is the only estimate available.

The receivers will be called upon to adjust claims likely to run to $7,000,000, according to Edwin L. Pride, Federal accountant.

These figures include the 50 per cent profits promised.

With the probability that settlement of the claims will be on the basis of actual investments, the figures will be pared down by approximately one-third. The receivers also will be called upon to decide whether they will proceed against those persons to whom Ponzi paid the 50 per cent profit.

Postal Employees' Grievances.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20. — Definite action in the form of a protest against provisions of the recent reclassification of postal employees is expected to result from the convention of the amalgamated postal workers, to be held in Edmonton, commencing August 23. Representatives of all postal employees will attend from all points between Sault Ste. Marie and Victoria.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

ROYAL VICTORIA There remains but one more day to see William Farnum, the William Fox star, in his latest production, "Heart Strings," at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The film will have its final showing tonight.

As is usual with a Farnum picture, the theatre has been filled at every showing. Manager Denham regrets that it is impossible to prolong the engagement of the photoplay which thrills the senses and stirs the heart strings of all who see it. In the cast are Gladys Coburn, Betty Hilburn, Kate Blancke, Rowland G. Edwards, Robert Cain and Paul Cazeneuve. Henry Albert Phillips wrote the story. The scenario was arranged by E. Lloyd Sheldon and J. Gordon Edwards directed the play.

VARIETY THEATRE The science of flirtation with its sharps and flats, its lifting of left eyebrows, its coy glances, its demure, shrinking and sidewise glances, is all portrayed to the very limit of the theme at last on the screen. Vitagraph is issuing a film that frankly tears flirtation apart and reveals its anatomy. This production is entitled "The Vengeance of Durand," which is the feature attraction at the Variety Theatre today. Alice Joyce, star of the picture, is called upon through some of its most dramatic situations to employ flirtation upon four different men. The young woman is cast as Marion and later as Beatrice Durand, a bride who commits suicide, and a daughter who works revenge of her mother's death, through flirtation. Tragedy marches along spiritually beside the girl who contrives and applies flirtation. It is a tragedy of her soul. Beatrice, using all the arts and artifices of the vampire, is called on to wreck and destroy the souls of not only unloved courtiers, but that of the man she worships. In the end the girl wins her way against fate, and is saved for a happy fulfilment of her dreams.

COLUMBIA THEATRE It took a great deal of patience to get the Australian love birds appearing in Mary MacLaren's latest Universal picture, "The Road to Divorce," now at the Columbia Theatre, to pose in the manner desired by Philip Rosen, the director. It was no trouble to photograph the bird mates affectionately caressing each other. They are seldom doing anything else. But after the young, married couple in "The Road to Divorce" had become slightly estranged Mr. Rosen wanted to bring the fact out subtly by showing the love birds standing aloof from each other. He hadn't taken into consideration the unchanging fidelity of the little feathered lovers. They refused to be parted. The director and cameraman worked for days trying to get the birds to stand on opposite sides of their cage for a moment. Finally it was necessary to photograph them separately and use double exposure, a camera trick, to produce the desired "estrangement." Several animals, as well as birds, appear in "The Road to Divorce," and all play their parts well.

PANTAGES THEATRE Those who have never seen the De Michel Brothers play on their harp and violin cannot appreciate how much comedy can be coupled with music, for the De Michels are not only real musicians with artistic temperament and everything like that, but they are also comedians of the first water, and seeing is believing. "Thirty Pink Toes" is one of the funniest offerings billed here for a long time. "A Hunter's Game," presented by Frank Stafford & Company, is a very attractive piece, staged in the woodlands and featuring songs and bird imitations. "Noodles" Fagan, fun-maker extraordinary, appears in a new act with Elsie and little Mary. Jean Barrios appears in a flaming orange gown and sings. She is a clever impersonator, and few in the audience yesterday guessed the deception, until Jean doffed "her" titian wig. "The Alaska Duo" presents a fascinating act on what appears to be real ice, with Yukon surroundings.

PRINCESS THEATRE This is the last opportunity you will have to see "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" at the Princess Theatre. There will be the usual matinee today and the last performance of this delightful play will be given tonight. Wednesday, August 25th, the cowboy comedy chosen to follow "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row," will be presented in a manner to please the many admirers of this capable company. All will find the players cast to advantage and none can help but enjoy this clever play, "The Renovated Ranch." Cowboys are not only dear to the hearts of small boys and girls but grown boys and girls. Men and women of riper years and larger experience too are usually thrilled by the romance that envelopes the lives of the sturdy fellows who ride the range and do and dare in a spirit of gay adventure. There are many laughs, a few tears and some thrills in "The Renovated Ranch," and no one should miss what promises to be a treat for all fun loving hearts; and as cowboy plays are hard to get these days it may be weeks before another Western play is presented at the Princess. Remember today's matinee and the night performance will be the last chance to see "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row."

BERT LYTELL IN FAMOUS PLAY AT DOMINION MONDAY

Bert Lytell will be seen next week at the Dominion Theatre in Metro's screen version of the internationally famous crook drama, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," from the play by Paul Armstrong.

To remark on the nature of this play borders on the superfluous, for it probably is the most popular and successful melodrama written in the last decade. It was first presented on the stage in New York, with H. B. Warner in the title role, and ran for a long, crowded season. The extended career the piece has had on the road and in stock companies needs no comment.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" is a role entirely different from any he has portrayed in Metro's "fewer and better" series of special productions. His previous appearances at the temperamental modiste in "Lombardi, Ltd." and as the supercilious and brilliant Charley Steel in Sir Gilbert Parker's "The Right of Way," are far removed in character from the magnetic jail-bird hero, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," whose name is a household word in America.

To say that the part is one admirably suited to Mr. Lytell's abilities rather discounts them, for it is becoming known that this young Metro star does not need a role tailored to him. He is probably the one young male star of the screen who makes his characterizations individual, makes them different from the conventional type of theatrical hero. Jimmy is a person, however, whom Mr. Lytell knows from having portrayed him in stock, on the stage.

CLOSING ENGAGEMENT

The Bohemians Will Give Last Entertainment on Sunday Evening —Sacred Concert

The Bohemians, who have been playing at The Gorge Park during the entire Summer, are closing their most successful engagement next Sunday evening with the usual sacred concert. In behalf of the organization it may be said they have been a source of splendid entertainment to all who have heard and seen them. While comparisons are odious, it is safe to say they have been the most pleasing in every way of the Gorge entertainers for many seasons. The musical selections have been carefully made and prettily staged. The young ladies are all attractive and talented; the gentlemen are natty and dapper in their appearance and work. The comedy has not been spoiled with too much buffoonery, but always brings forth hearty laughter and applause. It has been in the hands of Ernie Impett, and he has proven himself an energetic and capable al fresco artist of the real old English type.

The little company, under the careful management and direction of Mrs. E. Lang, certainly has won many friends who will wish them all, individually, success in their future careers. A happiness and geniality seems to prevail among them. This reveals itself to the audience, and provokes immediate friendliness between them and the artists. Their departure will occasion regret, and good wishes follow them on their way.

The following is the roster of the company: First comedian, Ernie Impett; second comedian, Joe Cooper; leading man, Billy Marshall; first soprano and monologist, Eva Barclay; contralto, Molly Ross; soubrette, Lilly Dooly; solo dancer, Leona Leighton; and the Misses Jerry Croft, Jane Carroll, Violet Curry and Dolly Harrison. Bert Zala has been the accompanist.

Keeps Children Well, Makes Them Robust

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE FOR THE HEAD OF EVERY FAMILY.

Rapid growth, work at home and in the school-room, are sure to tax the strength of every child, and often prove the beginning of a chain of weakness that lasts through life.

Give your sons and daughters a fighting chance! Give them good home surroundings, fortify them with education — but above all else do everything possible to insure for them perfect health in years to come.

In no way can you destroy weakness and built up health so surely as with Ferrozone. It's the concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone that enables it to do so much good. It contains the very elements that are needful in building up bone and sinew, in vitalizing and strengthening the blood. The appetite Ferrozone brings will gladden any parent's heart, and when color, spirits, vim, and energy increase day by day then you know what grand work Ferrozone is doing. Because it makes and keeps you healthy, because it is pleasant, harmless and sure to do enormous good—you and your children should use Ferrozone every day. W.C.B. HOSPITAL FEE MATTER UNSETTLED

Compensation Board Writes Jubilee Board of Directors They Will Not Be Responsible for Patients

Apparently something in the nature of a deadlock has been reached in the negotiations advanced by the Jubilee Hospital Board of Directors against the Workmen's Compensation Board. At their July monthly board meeting the directors of the hospital instructed the secretary, Mr. Carver, and Dr. Rogers, the medical superintendent of the hospital, to draw up a letter specifying the terms on which the hospital would be prepared to accept Workmen's Compensation Board cases. This step was taken in response to a letter from the Workmen's Compensation Board offering terms which were not considered by the hospital sufficient to cover the cost of maintaining the patients.

The following correspondence has passed between the two bodies since the July meeting:

(From the Medical Superintendent of the Hospital to Dr. G. A. B. Hall, chief medical referee of the Workmen's Compensation Board.)

July 20, 1920.

Dear Sir:—

Our Board of Directors, at their meeting on the 16th inst., considered the proposed readjustment of fees paid hospitals for W. C. B. cases as outlined in your letter of July 5, and have instructed me to advise you as follows:

A flat rate of $3.50 a day per patient will be accepted on the understanding that this amount is simply a maintenance fee, for which the hospital gives bed, meals, ward-attendance, and ordinary medicine and ward dressings.

For every case requiring the use of the operating room, irrespective of the length of time the patient remains in hospital, a charge of $5 will be made, and this does not include the anaesthetist's fee, when an outside anaesthetist is used.

All X-ray work, diagnostic and therapeutic, all special treatments such as massage and electro-therapeutic and all special drugs as sera, vaccines and alcholic stimulants, will be charged for separately.

Special nurses' fees and the hospital charge for special nurses' meals are also subjects for separate charge.

The Board also wish it to be clearly understood that, inasmuch as the hospital cannot discharge a case until instructed to do so by the attending doctor, the hospital looks to the W.C.B. to pay its account for the full term of the man's stay in hospital, even though in the opinion of your Board the stay was unnecessarily long."

The Reply

The following is the reply, under date of July 27, sent by Dr. Hall, the Chief Medical Referee of the Workmen's Compensation Board, to the foregoing:

"In reference to your letter of the 20th instant: this matter has been carefully considered by the Board, but they feel that they are unable to make any different terms with your hospital than the terms already agreed upon by all hospitals other than those in Victoria. They are reluctantly placed in the position of having to deal differently with the patients going to Victoria hospitals than those going to other hospitals in the Province.

On and after the 1st proximo the Board will not be in any way responsible to you for any treatment supplied by you to patients coming under the Workmen's Compensation Act. In other words, you will be in the same position as if the present Workmen's Compensation Act did not exist. We are today advising the members of the medical profession of Victoria of the position herein."

To See St. Joseph's

The Jubilee Hospital secretary and Dr. Rogers have been appointed a committee of two to interview the authorities of St. Joseph's Hospital with regard to this matter, and will report back to the Jubilee Hospital Board executive later. It is apparent, however, that St. Joseph's holds the same view as the Jubilee Hospital, viz., that the former terms paid by the Workmen's Compensation Board are not sufficent to pay for the maintenance of patients, as a letter sent from St. Joseph's to the Workmen's Compensation Board, might indicate. A copy of this was sent to the Jubilee Hospital Board, and was read last night, along with other correspondence which has been exchanged on the matter.

"St. Joseph's Hospital will accept the flat rate of $3.50 per day for patients, with the following exceptions," said the letter.

"First, that the hospital will not be responsible for massage, anaesthetics, special nurses, nor for X-ray or serum, as stated in your letter.

"Second, we would supply surgical dressings at a rate of $5 for each patient, irrespective of the number of days the patient remains in the hospital."

C. N. R. Patients

The Secretary was instructed by the Board last night to send a letter to the C.N.R., offering exactly the same terms to that corporation as quoted to the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Authority was also given for the writing of a letter to the Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, stating that the Jubilee Hospital was prepared to accept their patients at $3.95 per diem, on the understanding that no less than twenty patients per day be treated.

ALBANIANS ATTACK SERBIAN GARRISON

ROME, Aug. 20.—A wireless message from Boutari, Albania, to The Tempos states that fierce fighting is proceeding north of that place between Serbs and Albanians, and that Serbian regiments in their defence of Taraboco, yesterday, lost 230 dead 250 prisoners.

It adds that a revolution has broken out at Kostovo, and the Albanian Government has called 60,000 men to the colors.

TANLAC BEST OF ALL MEDICINES, SAYS RIGBY

After 15 Years' Suffering Vancouver Man Was Ready to Give Up in Despair—Is Hale and Hearty Now.

"For the first time in twelve years I am free from suffering," said James Rigby, of 764 25th Ave., East, Vancouver, B. C., in relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac.

Before I began taking Tanlac I had suffered so long and taken so many medicines without benefit that I was just about at my row's end. My appetite was poor, nothing tasted right to me, and even the little that I did eat formed gas which bloated me up until I had to actually fight for my breath. There was a burning like fire in my stomach and at times I was almost deathly sick. I had violent attacks of palpitation of the heart and such a swimming in the head I felt like I was falling over. I never knew what it was to be free from headaches and there were many times when my head felt like it would burst. My back, also, hurt me terribly. I was so nervous the least thing would make me jump and it was next to impossible for me to sleep at night. I was all run down, as weak as a kitten, with no energy and no interest in anything.

"I was just about ready to give up in despair when I noticed a statement about Tanlac given by a man I know, whose case seemed to match mine exactly. Well, I started taking Tanlac, and I had not finished the first bottle before I noticed a great change for the better, and now my indigestion has absolutely disappeared. My appetite is tremendous, and no matter what I eat nor how much I eat, I never suffer a particle afterwards. I have gained several pounds in weight, my nervousness, my headaches, and all my other pains have left me, and I sleep fine every night. Nobody could convince me but what Tanlac is the best of all medicines for those who suffer from indigestion, and I am recommending it wherever I go."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, druggist, and in Esquimalt by Lang's Drug Store. (Adv't)

A Great Clock

Big Ben, as the great clock of the Houses of Parliament in Westminster is called, is one of the largest and most accurate in the world. The weights hang down a shaft 160 feet deep, and rewound once a week. The pendulum is 15 feet long, and weighs 680 lbs., and is so delicate in its action that a small weight of only one ounce placed on a particular part of the apparatus will alter the rate of the clock one second per week. On the four sides of the clock tower are dial rooms, each a large apartment traversed by mechanism which communicates motion from the machinery of the clock to the hands. Each of the four clock dials is 22½ feet in diameter and the castiron framework of each dial weighs no less than four tons. The hour figures are two feet high and six feet apart, and the minute hand makes a sudden leap of 7 inches every half minute. The hands weigh more than 100 lbs. for the pair. The minute hand is 16 feet long, and the hour hand 9 feet long.

SOLUTION FOUND

Shippers May Send Letters Pertaining to Goods With Merchandise on C.P.O.S. Steamers

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—In regard to transpacific sailings and complaint of delays to shipping documents, the Deputy Postmaster-General calls attention to the fact that under the Post Office Act, the exclusive privilege of the Postmaster-General to convey letters does not extend to "letters concerning goods or merchandise sent by common known carriers to be delivered with the goods to which such letters relate, without hire or reward, profit or advantage for receiving or delivering them."

Letters concerning goods or merchandise sent by Canadian Pacific steamers may, therefore, be sent with the goods on the vessel carrying same in every case so that there need be no delay whatever in shipping documents reaching the Far East.

Premier Meighen will give the Oriental mail situation his personal attention, according to a telegram he has sent to Mr. S. J. Crowe, M.P., and H. H. Stevens, M.P.

Owing to a disagreement between the post office department at Ottawa and the C.P.R., Canadian mails for the Orient are now being sent from Seattle on Japanese steamers, taking several days longer to reach the Far East.

STOWAWAYS FOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—After remaining hidden in the hold of a ship for almost three days before being discovered and listed as stowaways, two pretty Hawaiian school teachers who were smuggled aboard the Army transport Sheridan by friends, arrived here yesterday from Honolulu.

The teachers were listed on the ship's roll as stowaways under the names of Mildred McGruder and Eva A. Traugher. Upon arrival here Miss McGruder gave her name to port authorities as Mildred Willis, 22, of St. Louis, and Miss Traugher gave her name as Helen Traugher, 24 of Philadelphia.

BULLION STOLEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Reported disappearance of $10,000 in gold bullion from the strong boxes of the China mail liner Nile between the port of San Francisco and Shanghai today puzzled local shipping officials. No trace of the missing gold, part of a $3,000,000 treasure cargo, was discovered, according to advices to China Mail officials here, despite a rigid investigation following discovery of the theft. Possibility that an organized gang of thieves is operating on transpacific vessels and at Pacific and Oriental ports is strong, shipping men declared.

IROQUOIS ARRIVES

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The Iroquois, first Lake steamer to pass through the Panama Canal, is scheduled to arrive from Seattle, Wash., at 4 a.m. tomorrow, W. C. FAIRFIELD'S LARGEST

Empress of Canada Largest Ship Built by Company—Biggest Vessel Building in U.K.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 20.—Following the launching of the Empress of Canada, a representative party embarking on the Empress of Britain at Greenock, arrived later at this port.

Oil fuel, which was used by the ship on the voyage, gave splendid results. The Empress of Britain is now more finely equipped for three classes of passengers than she was before the war.

After the launching of the Empress of Canada, there was a luncheon at which congratulatory speeches were made by Mr. Griffith, secretary to the agents-general of Ontario, Nova Scotia and British Columbia.

Mr. R. Workman, chairman of the Fairfields Company, said that the Empress of Canada was not only the largest vessel the company had ever built, but she was the largest ship now under construction in the United Kingdom.

The British press today gives prominence to statements in Sir Thomas Fisher's speech regarding present conditions and progress of shipbuilding. He said the economies which could be effected by building a simpler class of ship were great. In speed, four knots less meant only twenty-four hours' longer voyage and halved the coal bill.

MINISTER OF MARINE IS OUT FOR BUSINESS

PRINCE RUPERT, Aug. 20.—Hon. C. C. Ballantyne has stated that he will recommend that the ocean dock under construction here be made longer, as he believes a length of 800 feet will be inadequate in a few years. He intimates there will be no changes in the recently enacted fishery laws, despite strong protests from other cities. He says he has reason to believe that the ships being built here will load here, there being an excellent outlook for future contracts, including passenger traffic. The aim of the Government is to make the industry a permanent one. He expects to see grain shipments because of the low railway grade, once facilities are provided.

HAD TO LIMIT CATCHES

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 20.—Such enormous schools of salmon are coming into the Rogue River that canneries have found it necessary to limit the amount of fish to 600 pounds from each boat. The run is the greatest in the history of the river.

Twelve cents a pound is paid by the canneries, so each man in a boat earns $36 for working a short time. The fish are so numerous that it is only necessary to cast the nets and haul them in.

AT LAST REWARDED

CAPE MUDGE, B.C., Aug. 20.—After waiting patiently for two months, the fishermen at Cape Mudge are at last rewarded for their long wait. Since August 8, rowboat trollers have been catching as high as sixty cohoes a day to the boat, and gas boats up to one hundred and sixteen fish a day to the boat. The cannery pays fifty cents each for the cohoes.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydeck at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

British Israelism

Sir,—In attempting to give the proofs of our King's descent from the royal line of David within the narrow limits of a letter it is obvious I am laboring under a great disadvantage. As it is necessary to condense and leave out most convincing details which would fill a large volume or more, it is plain then I can only give a synopsis, and my great difficulty under the circumstances will be to present my facts in a concise and coherent manner. However I will try. My story commences with the birth of twin boys to Judah, Gen. 38-27.30. From the remarkable circumstances attending their birth, the line of descent of the one (Phares), is called the breach line, that of Zareh, the seed line. These circumstances were the cause of dissensions by their descendants as to the right of seniority, and about the time of the death of Joseph in Egypt, the line of Zareh seceded from their brethren, and when the 19th dynasty (the Pharaoh who knew not Joseph) came to the throne of Egypt they allied themselves to him for a time, but subsequently the tyrannies of Rameses the First drove them to Troy, Athens, Crete, etc.; thence later on to Spain, etc. There we will leave the seed line at present, as we shall have to consider the history of the tribe of Dan. In Gen. 49 Jacob calls all his sons together to tell them what shall befall them in the latter days of Dan. He said he should be a serpent in the way. Now a serpent leaves a trail. Deut. 33-22. Moses said Dan is a lion's whelp, he shall leap from Bashan. In the division of Palestine after the conquest Dan was given a very small territory on the seafront, including Bashan. This naturally caused them to take to the sea for a livelihood, and they, with part of Zebulon, very soon became possessed of a considerable mercantile navy. See Deborah's lament: Judges 5-17. Trading to the Grecian Archipelago, the coasts of the Aegean and Adriatic, through the pillars of Hercules, along the coasts of the mainland from Spain to Denmark (or Dans-Merk), the British Isles, etc., planting colonies in many places, especially in Spain, Belguim, Ireland and Denmark. In the south of Spain there is a very ancient tomb, on which is inscribed: "This is the tomb of Adoniram, the servant of King Solomon, who came here to collect tribute, and died."—From 1st Kings, 4-6, are the words. And Adoniram the son of Abda was over the tribute. The gradual emigration of these people from Palestine impelled no doubt by fear of the great nations in their rear left the population so sparse that when the Assyrians came upon the other tribes the remainder were able to flee away in their ships to one of their colonies. And so all this tribe except an inland colony escaped the general captivity of the ten tribes.

During these times (occupying as they did, some centuries), Judah's descendants of the seed line of Zareh became intermingled with the tribe of Dan, and one of the line of Zareh, named Milesius, became king of those settled in Spain. This king visited Ireland and married Muirеam, the daughter of the King of Ulster and Connaught, whose people called themselves tuatha de Danaans or tribe of Dan. There was one son of this union named Eochaidh, who became the heremon or head king (for there were three other kingdoms in the island). Eochaidh became the first of the Milesian dynasty of kings, and in his time the entire colony in Spain migrated in a body to Ireland, and after several battles finally amalgamated with their brethren in the island under Eochaidh.

We will leave this part of our subject for the present and return to the Bible, and I would recommend your readers to read carefully every word of the first chapter of Jeremiah with special reference to the tenth verse: "See I have this day set thee over the nations (of Israel) and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down and to destroy, and to throw down, to build and to plant." Subsequent history, as related in the book of Jeremiah, shows that he witnessed, and in a manner, superintended the destruction of the Kingdom of Judah and found favor with the invaders as God said he should, and was allowed to remain behind with the king's daughters (of whom he was the grandfather and natural guardian). After all their other male relatives were either slain, or taken away into captivity, a disobedient remnant of the people who were also allowed to remain in the country forced him and his charges (much against his will) to go with them to Egypt. By this time the destruction of the Kingdom of Judah was complete, and Jeremiah and the king's daughters, so far as biblical records go, drop completely out of sight. Nor do Jewish records give the slightest inkling as to what became of them. Certainly the latter part of Jeremiah's commission, namely, to build and to plant, was not performed among them. The prophet Ezekiel was a contemporary of Jeremiah, and the Lord sent him on a mission to the children of Judah in their captivity, by the River of Chebar in Chaldeu. Among many other things he was to say to them he was to put forth a riddle, and speak a parable to the House of Israel. (The ten tribes had about 112 years previously escaped from their captivity and were at that time in the trans-Caucasian countries, and in a sense lost). Ezekiel 17th: And say thus saith the Lord God, a great eagle with great wings, long-winged and full of feathers which had divers colors (a ship, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar. He cropped off the top of his young twigs and carried it into a land of traffic.

As my letter is already long enough though I am only half through with my subject, I shall have to give the remainder at a future date.

J. PARSONS,

Settlers for B.C.

Sir,—I was pleased to read in your issued of July 9 a report of an address delivered by W. Thomas Walker to the members of the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel. I am sorry I had not the pleasure of Mr. Walker's acquaintance while he represented the B.C. Government in this country.

He told the Rotary Club something about the propaganda being carried on here for advertising Canada, and spoke of the great work which is being so ably carried on by Mr. B. C. Gill as chief European advertising agent of the C.P.R. He also told of the value of cinematograph films as a means of advertising the Province of B.C., and I can heartily endorse every word he uttered.

It may be of some information to your many readers to know that for the past 15 years I have been lecturing for the C.P.R. on Canada and using films to illustrate my addresses; in fact I claim to be the first lecturer on Canada with "movies." I have visited all the chief towns and agricultural districts in the United Kingdom, and spoken in thousands of schools, colleges and universities, and as a result of my labors thousands have poured into Canada, and if there is one Province more than another whose claims I have pressed it is that of British Columbia. I have sent you many settlers who were possessed of large sums of money to take up fruit and poultry farming; others for mixed farming, lumbering and mining.

To your beautiful cities of Victoria and Vancouver I have sent hundreds of "the best of our breeding," and they have become good and useful citizens of the great Dominion. So far this year I have delivered upwards of 600 lectures on Canada, great crowds being present at each lecture. Quite recently in the town of Bolton, Lancashire, I addressed two great gatherings of something like 6,000 persons, and several signified their intention of coming out to British Columbia, one gentleman with a large family and a capital of $35,000, is coming to take up fruit and poultry farming.

Your Province is well represented by Mr. Wade, Agent-General, and his splendid and well-equipped offices are second to none in London; I had the pleasure of calling upon him this week and found his most affable and enthusiastic.

I would strongly advise your Government to issue more films, also more and up-to-date literature and information for intending settlers (not immigrants); also your various boards of trade, tourists associations, etc., to periodically publish good information regarding prospects in their several localities, for most of the printed matter in use at the present time is pre-war and out-of-date. I shall at any time be pleased to hear from any of your readers or from any of your boards of trade, etc., and next year I am looking forward to again having the pleasure of renewing old acquaintances, and also to make many new friends.

Saanich By-Election

Sir,—Reports of meetings held recently in connection with the Saanich by-election have been for the most part fair to all parties, and the interested public not attending meetings can for the most part judge of the true aims of each party touching the school question.

In your today's issue, however, Mr. Collis wilfully besmirches the issue, and falsely states: "In this campaign the millionaire, the wealthy and the childless are endeavoring to escape their responsibility to our rising generation by organizing a campaign which does not intend to stop short of breaking our system of free schools."

As I have been in the movement from the beginning I wish to state that there is no millionaire, no wealthy, and no childless person connected with it in my knowledge. As for "breaking free schools," no one dreams of it. If they dream at all it is of the day when free discussion of public questions will not be forbidden by autocratic chairmen. The time was August 18. The place was Tolmie Public School. Mr. Collis knows the rest.

PHILIP HOLLOWAY.

DEEP SEA DIVER IS VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

Worker on Princess Sophia Wreck Suffers From Effects of Too Sudden Change of Pressure

Deep Sea Diver John Donovan is at the Dawes Hospital, in this city, suffering from paralysis of his lower limbs and impaired heart action caused by staying under water too long and being brought to the surface too quickly while working on the wreck of the Princess Sophia, says The Alaska Daily Empire, of Juneau.

Donovan was engaged in fastening cables to the sunken vessel and was working at a depth of 150 feet. He was down for a considerable length of time and when he was hoisted up, it is said, was not brought up gradually enough. The sudden change of pressure affected him.

He was rushed to the city on the salvage tug Daniel Kern and taken to the Dawes Hospital, where he is now under the care of Dr. L. P. Dawes. Dr. Dawes said today that, although the man was in a serious condition, he had great hopes that he would recover.

Two divers, of whom Donovan is one and Jack Clouse the other, have been working on the wreck of the Princess Sophia for several weeks placing the cables that will be used in raising the sunken vessel. Donovan has done considerable work in Alaskan waters and is known as a daring diver. Jack Clouse is a Port Townsend man, who made quite a reputation in war days in France. He is continuing at work at the wreck.

STOCKS-BONDS-LOCAL MARKETS

VEGETABLES ARE REDUCED IN PRICE

Victoria and Mainland New Potatoes Still Cheaper—Beets and Carrots Also Cost Less, But Eggs Are Dearer

The latest reports from the markets show that vegetables are cheaper, the wholesale price of Victoria new potatoes having gone down from $2.50 per sack to $2.25 per sack, while Mainland new are now $2.10, instead of $2.25 per sack. New potatoes retail, are quoted at 9 lbs. for 25c, and $2.20 per sack, instead of 8 lbs. for 25c.

Beets also are reduced in price, now selling at $2.50 per sack, instead of $2.75, wholesale. Carrots have gone down considerably, as they are now priced at $1.90, the former price having been $2.50. Tomatoes are on the down grade, as regards price, selling at $4.00 per crate No. 1, and $2.50 per crate No. 2.

A car of Wenatchee preserving peaches is due to arrive on September 1.

Eggs are dearer, the wholesale price for British Columbia fresh eggs having gone from 69c to 72c. No changes are reported in the flour and feed line, and retail meat prices also remain stationary. There are, however, four changes in the wholesale meat prices. Mutton, lard, hams and bacon all being slightly cheaper. The retail fish prices show four changes. Cod fillets, soles, halibut and smoked black cod being a little lower in price.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20.—The wheat market was fairly active today, the feature being the good buying by export houses, and the amount that changed hands was the largest yet. There was little change in prices. The demand for new crop wheat was good, with premiums higher than on Thursday, 7 cents over October being bid for spot No. 1 Northern, 4 cents over for No. 2 Northern, and No. 3 Northern at the October price.

In the coarse grain markets, there was a good demand for oats and barley, and big premiums are being offered for odd cars.

October wheat closed unchanged. December ⅛ cent lower. October oats closed ⅜ cent higher, December 1¼ cent higher, and May ⅝ cent better. October barley closed 2¾ cents higher, and December 1⅝ cent up. October flax closed 5⅛ cents higher, and November 3 cents higher. October rye closed 1⅛ cent higher.

Rebound From Low Levels Continued at Yesterday's Session—Improved Polish Situation Has Effect

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The stock market made further progress towards recovery today, yesterday's rebound from low levels of the early days of the week being very substantially enhanced on a pronounced expansion of business.

Not only were the day's transactions the largest of the week, but they encompassed a more diversified group of stocks, including investment rails, as well as many speculative specialties recently subjected to severe pressure.

Among the developments which evidently contributed to the greater stability of the market, were the further success of the Polish offensive, improvement in the important foreign exchange quotations, and relaxation in money rates.

Local banks manifested a more liberal attitude regarding time loans, though holding to long prevailing rates, and call money upset the calculations of the shorts by loaning over the week-end at seven per cent, that figure ruling throughout the session.

Steels, equipments and oils were the most active stocks. Sugars recovered part of their loss, and tobaccos, leather and paper issues featured the specialties, metals also hardening.

Sales amounted to 525,000 shares.

The bond market failed to keep pace with stocks, although Liberty issues, excepting the 3½'s, were mostly higher. Among foreign bonds, United Kingdom and Belgian issues eased slightly, with Anglo-French 5's, while Paris made a fractional gain. Sales totalled $7,450,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS TO MEET IN VICTORIA

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The life underwriters of Canada will meet in Victoria, B.C., in 1921. This was decided this morning after a pressing invitation, in which the city of Victoria and the British Columbia Government joined in, was offered to the convention. The representatives of Vancouver also said they would do their share.

It was pointed out that in 1922 the convention would be an international one, held in Canada, and that probably Toronto would be the meeting place.

NUGGET GOLD

Investors who purchased Nugget shares around 40 cents to 45 cents, have a splendid opportunity of making a good profit, besides recovering any loss which they have made, by purchasing Nugget shares at the present price. Nugget is selling low because of liquidation and the restriction of credits, but the mine has never been in better shape. Development has assured its future as a gold producing mine. Gold shipments are being regularly made to Vancouver.

We advise purchase immediately to take full advantage of the upward movement in the shares.
